Retired Dentist Held For Murder In Insurance Plot

LINKED WITH SLAIN MAN IN REALTY DEAL

Ex-waitress Identifies Body of Victim and Reveals His Dual Life

Bentonville, Ark.—(AP)—Dr. A. J. Bass, wealthy retired dentist of Columbia, Mo., was under an indictment charging murder today, while authorities continued their investigation of the slaying of William Robert Pearman, also of Columbia, in what they termed a $200,000 insurance swindle plot.

Dr. Bass was in jail here, while attorneys sought to arrange his release on a $20,000 bond, set late yesterday shortly after the indictment was returned.

A squad of officers was under orders today to search for a .38 calibre pistol in the arena near Gracette, Ark., where Pearman's body was found last week with three bullet wounds in the head.

If the pistol can be found, Prosecuting Attorney John S. Combs said, it may prove a valuable clue in establishing the identity of the person who shot Pearman. His theory is that a gunman was hired to kill him.

MAY HAVE BEEN TIED

Residents in that section also are to be questioned as to whether they heard shots the night before the body was found. The name of bullets, Combs said, indicated Pearman never moved after the first shot and that he possibly was bound at the time.

The body was identified by his confidante, Miss Pearl Powell, former waitress of Columbia, who told of his dual life.

She barred Pearman's connection with Bass in a big land deal and said that at times Pearman assumed the name of William Folia, who had been missing for 17 years from his home at Martinsburg, Mo. Under that name Pearman took out $200,000 in insurance and assigned it to Bass as collateral on notes given in purchase of the land.

Combs announced in court yesterday that the grand jury today probably will return two additional indictments against Bass, charging accessory before and after the fact to murder.

Authorities said they believed two or more persons besides Bass were involved in the alleged plot.

Various leads were being followed in efforts to trace movements of Pearman since he left Columbia, March 24, for Kansas City, and his associations during the period of negotiations in the supposed land deal.

Vote To Abolish Death Penalty For Desertion

London.—(AP)—The British House of Commons, voting last night on the army and air force bill, passed the amendment of a Labor member to abolish the death penalty for desertion on active service. The vote of 219 to 35 apparently settled one of the most debated questions which arose out of the war-time discipline of British forces.

The amendment substituted penal servitude for desertion in the face of the enemy and was supported among others by Oliver Baldwin, Labor member and son of the Conservative leader, Stanley Baldwin. Other provisions of the bill which were passed abolished the death penalty for cowardice in certain cases.

In introducing the amendment abolishing the penalty for desertion while on active service Ernest Thorneycroft, the author, argued that since the death sentence was no longer in force, the penalty should be deleted.

Through a misunderstanding, Labor members supported another amendment, to which they were in fact opposed, for the retention of the death penalty for soldiers quitting their posts or causing false alarms to be spread. This amendment probably will be deleted later.

Export Act Is Nearing Final Vote

Ottawa.—(AP)—The government amendment to the export act to deny clearances to craft carrying liquor to the United States was in the final stages of passage through the senate today. It already has passed in the house of commons.

The measure was passed on second reading without a division last night and will be brought up for final action after the Easter recess. The opposition sought to delay action on the bill and have a committee appointed to investigate the possible effect of the measure, which not only will withhold clearance for liquor cargoes destined for the United States but will prevent withdrawal from warehouses of liquor for export across the border.

Senator R. H. Pope, Conservative, in a speech opposing the bill challenged the government to permit an investigation, and charged that it was afraid something might be revealed concerning contributions from the liquor interests to party funds. He said that he saw a possibility of swelling party funds by delaying the issuance of regulations by the governor-in-council necessary to carry out the provisions of the bill.

"I am very proud of the United States," he said, "but I want them to stay at home and mind their own business. Canada also should mind her own business. The United States has no friends on this continent they are autocrats."

Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader, said in reply that there was nothing to investigate, adding that the government meant to dry up political subscriptions at their source.

HOOVER TAKES ROD AND REEL TO CAMP

President Makes First Trip This Spring to Virginia Mountain Lodge

Washington.—(AP)—Springtime's challenge of a fast-sinking reel and a weekend outdoors drew President Hoover from work today for his first trip of the season to his fishing camp in the Virginia mountains.

Leaving the White House just after lunch, the chief executive expected to reach the preserve on the head waters of the Rapidan by dusk and in time to whip the stream for half an hour or so before dinner.

Today's trip gave the president his first opportunity to take advantage of the Virginia fishing season, which opened on Tuesday. Earlier, he had declined an offer from the legislature of that state to amend its statutes so that he would be permitted to indulge in his favorite sport before the regular season opened.

The expedition was a stag affair. In the chief executive's party were Secretary Lamont of the department of commerce, Secretary Wilbur of the interior department, Attorney General Mitchell, Representative Fort of New Jersey, Lawrence Richies, one of the president's secretaries, and Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician. They planned to return to Washington on Sunday in time for dinner.

Although it was planned at first that Mrs. Hoover, together with the wives of some of the president's guests should accompany the party, it was later announced that the men would go alone. Mrs. Hoover went to Philadelphia yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Society of Friends.

Throughout the early spring days, President Hoover has pleasantly anticipated a resumption of his week-end visits to the summer camp, which a year ago constituted his only leave taking from the capital.

Particularly to be desired, in the presidential mind, was the fishing. This has long constituted one of his favored recreations. Aside from the recent trip to Florida, this is the chief executive's first respite since the summer camp was closed last fall. His last visit to the Rapidan was on the occasion of Prime Minister MacDonald's trip to the capital.

CAPTAIN UPTON TO TALK TO STUDENTS EARLY NEXT WEEK

Famous Coach and Play-ground Director on Lyceum Course

Capt. Dinsmore Upton, famous coach and playground director, will talk to the Appleton high school students on April 8. His subject will be The Player in the Shadow. Governor Pierce of Oregon, in speaking of Mr. Upton says, "I consider Dennie Upton one of the outstanding young men of America and one of the most brilliant speakers I have ever heard."

Mr. Upton's address is a part of the student assembly lyceum course which is being sponsored by the high school student councils. The numbers of this lyceum course are paid for by means of a student finance plan, to which most of the students belong. According to the rules of this plan each student who belongs contributes 15 cents a week for 35 weeks and this sum plays for the lyceum course and various other school activities.

Several well-known people have been brought to the high school as a result of the finance plan. The first presentation was by three boy orators, James Rayburn Moore, United States champion, William Fox, Jr., champion of Canada and Elfrain Brito Rosado, champion of Mexico. They were at the high school on Oct. 16. The Mexican orator gave his oration in Spanish.

On Jan. 13, Monsieur Jean de Jense, sleight-of-hand artist, demonstrated tricks of magic, spiritualism and thought transmission. He has been a professional magician for the last 15 years. Elliot James presented a liquid air demonstration on Nov. 13.

Phone Lines Are Broken By Blasts

New York.—(AP)—Thousands of business firms were without telephone service today as a result of the series of manhole explosions in Broadway between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets.

Repair crews of the New York Telephone company toiled throughout the night repairing burned out cables but expectations were that service would not be restored to all subscribers before tonight. Repair men said approximately 120,000 trunk, subscriber and leased lines were out.

A leaking gas main was believed by the police to have caused the series of explosions which yesterday sent four manhole covers into the air, tore up large sections of paving, injured six persons and routed 5,000 persons from the huge office buildings that line that section.

Business along Broadway between Twenty-seventh and Thirty-second streets was suspended for three hours while crews fought the fire that followed the blasts and sought to locate the gas leak. More than 100 policemen patrolled the district while the repairs were being made. None of the injured was seriously hurt.

In addition to telephone lines being put out of order, telegraph, gas service, the city fire alarm and traffic control systems were temporarily out of service.

OCEAN AIR LINE WITHIN 2 YEARS

Eckener Maps Details—Two Blimps to Be Built in U. S., One in Germany

Washington.—(AP)—Within two years Dr. Hugo Eckener expects to have his trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service in operation, with fares approximately double the price of a steamship ticket.

This was revealed by Commander J. C. Hunsacker, one of Dr. Eckener's close advisors and vice president of the International Transport company, who has been assisting the commander of the Graf Zeppelin in the selection of an airport terminal for the service.

He also said that another Zeppelin will be constructed in Germany and two in America and that eastward trips will be completed in two days and westward flights in three. The German built ship will be modelled after the Graf Zeppelin with some changes that Dr. Eckener's trans-Atlantic flights have proved advisable. The American airships will follow the pattern of two huge dirigibles now being built for the United States navy.

It is hoped that devices can be perfected to permit contact with airplanes, in order to land mail and passengers at cities over which the dirigibles will pass.

Dr. Eckener has been studying the Chesapeake bay area in search of a suitable spot for an airport. He has shown particular interest in the section of Laurel, Md., and in the Hybla Valley, near Alexandria, Va. Commandant Hunsacker said he expected it would be nine months before a decision is reached.

Edward Donahue spent Thursday in Two Rivers.

E. O. Bosse, Milwaukee, spent Thursday in this city.

Announce Names Of Another Group Of Prize Winners In Washington Contest

Here's another list of prizes in the Post-Crescent's On to Washington contest.

The contest editor spent many hours pouring over the scores of letters he received this week and he wants to congratulate every boy and girl who sent in a contribution.

Of course, he points out, they cannot expect to win a prize with every letter, although some of the contributors have almost been doing.

The case of one little girl, Alice Wolf of the Little Chicago school, near Kaukauna, is worthy of mention. She already has won several prizes, and although she is not on the prize list this week she is scheduled to win several more prizes with the next group of letters she is contributing.

This little girl deserves a lot of credit for the interest she is displaying.

One little girl asked whether only graduates may enter the contest. The contest editor explained that this contest is for the rural school graduates only because it is the intention of the Post-Crescent to help as many of the graduates as possible to earn the necessary $25 for the trip.

It is fine that other boys and girls are taking an interest in the contest and the editor suggested that if other boys and girls have ideas they should give them to the graduates and thus do their bit to help make the trip to Washington a success.

This would be displaying the true spirit of fellowship and cooperation.

Here is the prize list:

Nellie Thorson, Island school, route 3, Neenah, is going to do the shopping for her mother and a group of neighbors. She watches the Appleton-Post-Crescent for sales and by buying at these sales and in larger amounts she saves considerable money, which in return for her services to the group, she may keep for her On to Washington fund. Miss Thorson said she finds this idea very interesting. She says the idea not only aids her financially but it gives her experience in shopping.

Edwin Sturm, Hortonville, is catching minnows and plans to sell them to the spring fishermen.

Mary O'Connor, of the Elm Tree school, route 1, Appleton, wins a prize for the originality in the manner in which she makes her suggestions. It follows:

I've spent a lot of precious time devising ways and means. To earn my trip to Washington. I've thought of picking beans. But, as the party leaves in June. And beans come in July. I've found the bean plan wouldn't work.

So I've had to pass it by.

the school stage an "auction fair." Articles would be donated by the people in the district, including baked goods and many other things, and these would be sold at auction and the money divided among the graduates.

Edward Zietlow, Jr., Kimberly, wins a prize with his suggestion that the school stage a community supper and divide the proceeds among the graduates.

Norbert Huss, of the Fernwood school, route 1, Kaukauna, suggests

STREET CARS IN LAST RUN SUNDAY NIGHT

Busses Replace Electric Cars on City Line Start-

time authorized bus service and agreed to a fare of 5 cents, also suggesting that arrangements be made between the power company and the Fox River Bus Co. for transfer privileges on the two lines.

START IN 1886
Street cars have operated in Appleton since August, 1886, historical records of the city indicate. The original system was installed here by the Appleton Street Railway Co., in which many Appleton persons were interested financially.

The first run made by an electrically propelled street car was on Aug. 12, 1886. With five cars in the system, a regular schedule was put into effect a few days later. The company had received its charter Jan. 14, 1886. The line was built by Charles J. Van Depoele and the street cars were constructed by the Pullman company.

With 4 1/2 miles of track, only one city in the country, Montgomery, Ala., had a larger trackage. Montgomery boasted of 11 miles of track at that time. Only one line in Europe was longer than the Appleton system.

The original track followed the same route as the present system, although the cars operated only from the corner of State and W. Prospect-ave to the end of Pacific, completing runs on the west side of the bridge.

Tracks also were laid from the Northwestern depot down Appleton-ave to the St. Paul depot in the "flats" but only the street car every made this run, and it failed to complete the trip. The run from the Northwestern to the St. Paul depot was made without mishap, but on the return trip the car got only as far as the foot of the S. Appleton-st hill. The sharp incline proved too much for the car and horses were called into service to bring the car to the top of the hill. Further experiments finally convinced company officials that the system could not be operated over this route.

LOTS OF TROUBLE
The original line's car barns were located on E. College-ave. A frame building south of the Wisconsin Tissue Paper mill at the foot of Johnson-st housed the power plant. Several electric storms often played havoc with the system and it was even necessary at times to shut off the power. This, of course, interrupted the operation of the street cars.

A financial failure, the Appleton Street Railway Co. finally went through a receivership and was purchased by the Wisconsin Traction Co. The new company built the interurban line to Neenah and the first trip was made June 18, 1899. The extension to Kaukauna was completed in 1901. J. E. Harriman was president of the Appleton Street Railway Co. when it started operations here.

Numerous difficulties, starting immediately, were encountered by the company. It is recalled that one man, Elmer P. Morris, who super-

86 PLUMBING FIXTURES CONNECTED IN MONTH

Eighty-six new fixtures were connected to the Appleton plumbing system during March, according to the monthly report of George Gauslin, plumbing inspector. The inspector issued 20 permits, made 21 final inspections, 61 roughing inspections, and 20 sewer inspections. Fees collected in the plumbing inspector's office during March totaled $75.

ANOTHER MISSION OPENS THIS WEEK AT LOCAL CHURCH

Beginning of Pre-Easter Visitation Also Outstanding Event

The opening of a Mission, the second in Appleton in the last month, at Sacred Heart church on Sunday, the beginning of the pre-Easter visitation campaign at the Methodist church, and the annual pledge service at the Baptist church on Sunday were the outstanding features of the church week in Appleton.

The Mission at Sacred Heart church is being held for women this week, and next week the services will be for men.

Members of the Orders of De Molay were guests at the Sunday morning services at the Methodist church, and in the afternoon 50 workers visited all constituents of the church. On Wednesday Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor, attended a meeting in Milwaukee of the state committee concerned with the organization of all Protestant churches in the state. The Social Union met Tuesday.

The Rev. V. L. Dowdell of Pashotah House, Pashotah, conducted the morning service at All Saints Episcopal church Sunday, and the Rev. E. P. Baker of Chicago the evening service on Thursday. Bishop Harwood Sturtevant held week-day Communion.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church was held Thursday evening, and on Tuesday new officers of the Ladies Aid were elected at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Shannon.

The preliminary oratorical contest of the Young People's society at St. Paul Evangelical church on Tuesday evening was won by Gerald Herzfeld, who will next deliver his address, The Mission of the Walther League, at the Valley Walther League contest.

intended construction of the line for the Van Depoele people, narrowly escaped electrocution or, at the least, serious burns, when the first run was under taken with the first car.

Van Depoele and Morris were in the car on that eventful ride. The former, who was at the controller, discovered that some adjustments were necessary, and he told Morris to climb up on the roof. Depoele, however, neglected to turn off the current and when Morris attempted to adjust the trolley, a charge of 500 volts went through his body, almost throwing him to the ground.

Another early problem faced by the company was that tendency of street cars to leave the tracks. The tracks, built on unpaved streets, were not very substantial, and it was a rather common occurrence for the cars to slip off the rails when the current was turned on. Large stones also threw the cars off the tracks.

"White Shadows in the South Seas" was the motion picture presented at the Congregational moving picture service Sunday evening.

The board of St. John Evangelical church met Tuesday evening, and the Woman's Union elected officers on Thursday. The last of a series of pictures on the Life of Christ were shown to members of the German Methodist congregation Thursday evening at the O. W. Becker home, 121 Spring-st. # Census Takers Find Folks Here Eager To Cooperate

SEEK ANSWERS TO LONG LIST OF QUESTIONS

Uncle Sam Hopes to Build Up Great Store of Statistical Information

Ringed doorbells, tapping brass knockers and using their knuckles, census takers are on the job here since Wednesday counting the men, women and children in Appleton.

Each worker carries a large portfolio containing the long questionnaire that is put to everyone in the country. Each enumerator is provided with a map showing in detail the location of every place of habitation and the enumerators must keep calling at these homes until they obtain the information that Uncle Sam wants in this census.

Census takers are finding a willingness to cooperate on the part of most people. In a few instances it has been necessary to allay an attitude of suspicion but generally the people at home are willing to cooperate with the enumerator.

The questions asked are intended to produce a valuable store of information including not only the extent of population but the extent of unemployment, literacy, national origin, home ownership and radio ownership. There are questions too that will produce valuable data on the American farm problem.

All the information given the census takers is confidential and may not be divulged either by the enumerator or by the census division. The information is not available to any tax body of the United States nor can any other department in the government have access to the person statistics which the census is producing.

Here are the questions which the census asks:

Your name?

Your relationship to the family (whether the head of the family, wife, son, daughter or uncle, etc.)?

Whether your home is owned or rented?

The estimated value of your home, if owned, or the monthly rental, if rented?

Is there a radio in your home?

Do you live on a farm?

What is your sex?

What is your color or race?

What was your age at last birthday?

What was your age at first marriage? (For married persons only.)

Have you attended school or college any time since September 1, 1929?

Are you able to read and write? Where were you born?

Where was your father born?

Where was your mother born?

What is your native language? (For foreign-born persons only.)

In what year did you immigrate to the United States? (For foreign-born.)

Are you naturalized? (For foreign-born.)

Are you able to speak English?

If you are a gainful worker, what is your occupation?

In what industry are you employed?

Are you an employer, employee or working on your account?

Were you actually at work yesterday?

Are you a veteran of the United States military or naval forces, and if so, in what war or expedition did you serve?

If you answered "no" to question whether you were at work yesterday, you will be asked whether you have a job and are not working temporarily out of work at all. If you have a job, you will be asked:

How many weeks since you have worked on your present job?

Why were you not at work yesterday? (Or on the last regular working day.)

Did you lose a day's pay by not being at work?

How many days did you work last week?

How many days in a full-time week?

If you have no job at all, you will be asked:

Are you able to work?

Are you looking for a job?

For how many weeks have you been without a job?

Reason for being out of a job or for losing your last job?

The Oldtimer Asks...

Do You Remember When— Caught fighting, perhaps, the penalty would be to take turns reciting a certain poem about—

"Two little kittens one stormy night, Began to quarrel and then to fight"

"Bell ringers" and "glass blowers" used to visit town and give entertainments?

At local entertainments some little tot that could hardly speak would come out on the platform and recite:

"You'd scarce expect one of my age To speak in public on the stage"

The family that had a home with a bathroom with stationary bath tub, basin, etc., were classed among the aristocracy (I won't say the "400" because there probably were not that many bath rooms in the entire state) and do you remember how the early bath tubs were built in of lumber lined with tinned copper, soldered at the joints, and how, although theoretically, there was hot and cold water, the hot water was usually heated in the old fashioned way in the kitchen, and the family had to have their own water supply and sewerage system?

RED PAPER CLAIMS U. S. REVOLUTION SPIRIT IS GROWING

Russian Official Organ Says Communists Becoming Cohesive Group

Moscow—(AP)—Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, today said that revolutionary feeling is steadily developing among the masses in the United States, asserting that this was proved by the events of March 6, the international unemployment demonstration day, which caused riots in a number of American and foreign cities.

The American Communist party, it adds, is being converted from a mere propagandist unit into a cohesive group.

After telling its readers that the American Communist party in the past has been a bitter class struggle, including the textile and mines strikes in 1927 and the recent trouble in the Gastonia mill regions, Pravda, regrettably announces that only an insignificant number of new members have entered the party, the present membership being only 15,000.

American Communists are endeavoring to correct this weakness, it explains, by an intensive recruiting campaign.

The newspaper continues that the American party is still very weakly connected with industrial enterprises, only 10 per cent of the membership being employed in factory cells (groups). This is being remedied, Pravda says, through a majority of the new members of the party being workers in the automobile and steel industries.

"The creation of a strong mass Communist party in the United States," the paper continues, "will be the result of economic battles and the conversion of revolutionary trade unions, whose members now number from forty to fifty thousand, into massed trade unions numbering hundreds of thousands."

"The party has already taken steps for converting May 1 into a day of strikes and demonstrations involving mobilization of the masses. All sections of the Communist international will follow with deep revolutionary interest the results of the campaign started by the brotherly American party."

Election of officers also will be a part of the meeting.

At the meeting of the board of directors Thursday afternoon initial plans for the annual banquet of the club on the second Thursday of May were made. The program will include an outside speaker, Mrs. T. E. Orblison will be in charge of arrangements for the program, and Mrs. William Crow, president, will appoint a committee to arrange for the banquet.

Plans for a card party sometime in April also were discussed.

VALLEY COUNCIL BOY SCOUT CAMP TO OPEN JUNE 23

Scout Leaders Complete Plans for Camp Rally at Conference

Camp Chicagami, valley council boy scout camp on Lake Winnebago, will open June 23, it was announced Thursday evening at a meeting of the council leaders' training conference in the scout offices, according to M. G. Clark, valley scout executive.

The camp period will continue for four weeks, closing July 20. Sixty scouts will be permitted in camp during each period, while last year the limit was 45. County 4-B clubs will be permitted to use the camp for periods following the close of the boy scout camp period, Mr. Clark stated.

Final details of the valley council boy scout "Camp O'Neil" to be conducted at Erb park June 11 to 15 were completed. Several changes suggested by the various dealers were adopted. Reville is to be conducted at Erb park Sunday morning, June 15, instead of 7 o'clock, as outlined at first.

The group will break camp at 8:45 following breakfast, so that the various youngsters will be able to attend their own church and Sunday school services. Preliminary plans included special services at 8:30. A short service will be conducted at 6:30 Sunday morning instead.

The special committee in charge of the rally will meet Saturday, April 12, to complete all arrangements. Reports of individual troops in regard to their plans for the rally will be submitted by the various leaders.

The group also discussed tree planting projects to be undertaken during the next few weeks by the various council troops. Scouts plan to plant 5,000 trees during the coming months. The trees are to be furnished by the Wisconsin Conservation commission.

Swimming programs of troops also were discussed. Several troops, including those from Neenah and Menasha, have been taking swimming and life saving tests in the Y. M. C. A. pool here Saturday afternoon.

Fifteen scouts of Troop 9 of the Menasha Woodmenware Co. will use the association pool at 1:20 Saturday afternoon. Examinations in swimming and life saving are to be conducted by Lyle Eckrich, assistant scoutmaster.

CONSIDER CHANGES IN GARAGE ADDITION

Highway Committee Will Make Inspection of Amiesite Roads

The county highway committee met at the courthouse Friday to consider minor changes in the plans for the addition to be erected at the county garage on Highway 76.

The contract for the addition recently was let to the Appleton Construction company for a little over $10,000. Officials of that company were working with the commissioners Friday to consider several minor changes in the steel work. Construction is expected to begin about April 15 and the building probably will be completed this fall.

Friday afternoon the committee was to make a trip over County Trunk Z, on the south side of the Fox river between Appleton and Kaukauna, to determine how the amiesite pavement installed there last year is holding up. The committee is considering using amiesite on other road improvement projects in the county.

The committee also was to go to Kaukauna Friday afternoon to consider two proposed changes in the routing of Highway 55.

Charge Girl, 18, With "Joy-Ride" Car Thefts

With the arrest of Miss Alvina Vance, 18, route 5, Appleton, police last night believed they have solved a series of "joy-ride" thefts of automobiles in the city during the last three or four months.

A second girl was arrested with Miss Vance but no charges are to be brought against her because she told the officers that Miss Vance always did the driving and was the leader in the thefts. She admitted to police the theft of six or seven cars during the last four months.

The actual charge against the Vance girl involves the theft of a car owned by Glenn Van Straton, Appleton, which was taken between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday night from its parking place on N. Appleton-st. near the Excelsior hotel.

After the theft was reported to the police the officers were given instructions to watch for the machine. The arrest was made by Officer Fred Arndt, who apprehended the two girls in the stolen car. They were taken to the police station for questioning, where the second girl admitted a series of thefts, police said.

In Nov. 25 a car was taken at the Riverside mill and later abandoned on Atlantist-st. On Jan. 28 a machine was taken from W. Washington and later abandoned on the same street. On March 15 another car was taken from the Midway and left on E. Atlantist-st.

The Vance girl was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Monday morning and preliminary hearing of the charge against her was set for Saturday morning. She furnished $300 bonds.

PHILOSOPHY PROF WOULD MODERNIZE LANGUAGE OF PSALM

New York—(AP)—Modernization of the 23rd psalm is urged by Dr. Jesse H. Holmes, professor of philosophy at Swarthmore college, who believes the phrase "The Lord is My Shepherd" to be meaningless to the modern city dweller.

He suggests the following as substitutes:

"The Lord is my automobile's low gear to help me in climbing hard hills."

"The Lord is my antiseptic in times of dangerous epidemics."

"The Lord is my dynamo to charge my run-down batteries."

"The Lord is sunlight in my room bringing me the health of ultra-violet rays."

Speaking in Columbia university as the representative of Quakerism at a symposium on religion, he said:

"Most religion nowadays is quoted. It is derived from the experience of somebody else, but has no real basis in our own experience. 'The Lord is my Shepherd' tells us practically nothing about God. It is a sentimental phrase vaguely suggesting sheep. And what can that possibly mean to us of the city and the twentieth century?"

Reynolds carried every ward in Appleton except the First, the official count showed with the city giving him a majority of about 1,200 votes over Fowler and 2,200 over Cannon. The vote for the city was Reynolds, 3,770; Fowler, 2,539; and Cannon, 1,565. Cannon did not carry a single ward but he polled a larger vote than Fowler in the Fourth ward.

Kaukauna gave Reynolds 776 votes; Cannon, 680, and Fowler, 442. In Little Chute the count was: Reynolds, 330; Fowler, 80, and Cannon, 239; Grand Chute, Reynolds, 335; Fowler, 104 and Cannon, 186; Seymour, Reynolds, 162; Fowler, 89; Cannon 75.

HORTONVILLE MAN AWARDED $7,764 IN ACCIDENT SUIT

Circuit Court Jury Brings in Verdict Against Milwaukee Engineer

A jury in circuit court Friday night awarded damages of $7,764.70 to Bernard Olk, Hortonville, against Louis M. Marquardt, Milwaukee assistant city engineer.

The jury found Marquardt was guilty of negligent driving last August causing an accident at the intersection of Highways 76 and 26 when Olk's and Marquardt's cars collided and Olk was severely injured. The jury found Marquardt had failed to stop for the arterial and that he was driving in a careless manner. It absolved Olk of all blame for the crash.

Olk sought $12,650 damages. The case went to the jury about $30 and a verdict was returned about 10:40. Judge Edward Voight of Manitowish sat in the case in place of Judge Edgar V. Werner who was at "Black River Falls visiting his brother who is ill.

The case opened Wednesday morning and testimony was completed late Thursday afternoon. A night session of court was held because Judge Voight wanted to return to Manitowish as soon as possible.

Marquardt's counterclaim for $300 for damages to his car was disallowed by the jury when it found Marquardt responsible for the crash.

Graduates Of '67 Tell Stories Of Old School

Reminiscences of school days at the Whispering Pines school, town of Grand Chute, in 1887 were recalled at the school Thursday evening as five graduates of the class of '67 gathered to take part in the program arranged in an effort to raise money to help pay expenses of eighth grade graduates of that school on their trip to Washington, D. C., next June. The program was arranged by Mrs. J. Rosenberg, clerk of the district, and Miss Anna Williamson, teacher.

Members of the graduating class of 1887 who took part in the program were: C. B. Fox, E. Wisconsin; Otto Thieschenhusen, 933 E. Washington-st.; Charles Kesting, route 5, Appleton; and William Johnston, 1143 E. Wisconsin-ave, Appleton.

Cards and dice furnished entertainment following the program. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Ingenthron and J. Laux. Miss Tone Feltzer and Mrs. Adola Kandler won prizes at dice.

Pictures of the first teacher of Whispering Pine school, Miss Mary T. Gery, were shown by Mr. Thieschenhusen. Pictures were given to each member of the old graduating class on the last day of school in 1887, Mr. Thieschenhusen explained.

Verbal pictures of the old days in the school which pupils were obliged to sit on log benches with their backs to the teacher, were related. There was no clock in the school so the teacher was obliged to borrow a watch and mark lines on the floor similar to a sun dial. In days when the sun wasn't shining the teacher used her own judgment as to time.

Mr. Fox presented the history of building the Old Plank road and told about the days his father was toll collector. Everyone crossing the road was obliged to pay toll to pay for its construction.

Two of the members of the old class prepared papers from McGuffey's reader, written by McGuffey, "Darius Greene and His Flying Machine," and "Over the Hill to the Poor House."

Other stories about the ancient rustic stove furnishing the heat and about the rusty pall and rusty tin cup for drinking purposes, also were told.

Other members of the class, who were unable to be present, are: E. M. Johnston, St. Weyauwega; Miles Meldam, 1333 W. Prospect-ave; Mary Van Gorder, 125 E. Brewster-st, and Frank Chandler, 401 N. Clark-st.

REAL ESTATE MAN HELD IN MURDER OF WIFE AND SON

Killed Negro as Ax Slayer—to Be Questioned by Florida Officials

Sebring, Fla.—(AP)—William R. Carver, former Philadelphia real estate man was held in jail here for questioning today in the ax killings of his wife and two-year-old son, which a coroner's jury had blamed on a Negro yard boy, whom Carver shot to death.

Mrs. Carver and her boy were killed in the Carver home here Wednesday. The coroner's jury said the Negro, Ben Whitehead, had killed them and that Whitehead's death at Carver's hands was justifiable homicide.

Carver was arrested yesterday after officers learned that he was beneficiary in a $10,000 insurance of Mrs. Carver, taken out last December.

State's Attorney Grady Burton ordered an arrest.

Sheriff Oscar Wolff said stains resembling blood had been found on a pair of Carver's golf trousers. He also said that an examination of the body of Whitehead failed to disclose any blood other than what appeared to have come from his own wounds.

Testimony at the coroner's inquest said the Carvers were enjoying their regular siesta when Mrs. Carver was awakened by a noise in her room. She cried out when she saw the negro at the dressing table filling his pockets with her jewelry. Carver, it was testified, was in an adjoining room and rushed to his wife just in time to see the Negro fell her with an ax. While he picked up his pistol, the coroner was told, the Negro killed the child with the ax. Carver fired four shots into the Negro, reloading his gun and fired twice more.

Carver recently moved here from Philadelphia where he had been in the real estate business. His father, Samuel Carver, a steel manufacturer and real estate dealer, came here from his winter home in Miami when he learned of the tragedy.

Questioning of Carver was delayed until today when the state attorney and sheriff a gain could get together it was announced. Burton lives in Wauchula.

Find Poison In Body Of Woman Who Feared Murder

Dayton Beach, Fla.—(AP)—A woman's expressed fear of murder was responsible today for the revelation that there were traces of poison in the viscera of Mrs. Rosa A. Stone, who died here Feb. 19 under unusual circumstances.

Not long before her death Mrs. Stone wrote to an undertaker saying she feared she might be murdered, and directing that an autopsy be held in the event she died suddenly.

The visceral organs were sent to the state board of health and an analysis showed three kinds of poisons, Murray Sam's state's attorney, announced.

An investigation of the death was begun when Mrs. Stone's will, leaving an estate valued at approximately $100,000, to her servants, was being probated. She lived alone with only her servants in the household. It was revealed, Sams said, that Mrs. Stone had been well the morning preceding her death.

The probate of the will was stayed on request of Charles and Frank Spear of Boston, who asked that it be delayed until it could be learned what had happened to a will left by Captain Frank Stone, Mrs. Stone's husband who died in 1925.

They alleged that Stone was their father and in reality was Frank Spear of North Reading, Mass., who abandoned them and his legal wife, Emma Spear in 1892 and went to Providence, R. I., where he took the name of Stone. Emma Spear, they contended, died in 1896.

The Spears contend that records do not disclose the divorce of Stone from his first wife, or the legal changing of his name or the marriage on Mr. Stone, who they claim, was a Mrs. Campbell and who abandoned her husband and was never divorced.

They contend that Stone made a will in 1923 providing for them and their sister.

LITIGATION OVER SHORT WAVES NOW ENTERS NEW LAP

Four Companies File Briefs Complaining Against Radio Commission

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press

Washington—The ponderous continental short wave litigation enters its second lap before the court of appeals here as four aggrieved companies file their briefs—purporting to show why the federal radio commission's allocation of these precious channels should be voided.

Entwined in this case are the bulk of the available frequencies set aside for use in Radiotelegraph message networks in competition with the established wire lines of the Western Union and Postal. Only one of the five major companies which applied for or were allocated blocks of these channels—the Universal Wireless Communications company, Inc.—has kept out of the court controversy and wiggled off with some of the channels. It is now operating between a dozen cities, and has 28 of the 40 channels originally assigned it at its disposal.

The rest of the companies, R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Mackay Radio & Telegraph Co., Intercity Radio Telegraph company and Wireless Telegraph and Communications Co., Inc., are embroiled in the litigation with direct appeals from the commission's decisions denying them frequencies. And still others are tied up indirectly, by virtue of injunctions, which prevent their use of the channels the commission had given them.

The latest development in the protracted legal contest which bids fair to run another year, is the court's denial to permit Press Wireless, Inc., the organization created to utilize short waves in the dissemination and gathering of news both internationally and domestically, to intervene in the litigation. The court, however, did grant the company authority to file a brief in the case as a friend of the court, setting forth its grievances.

GOT 20 FREQUENCIES

Press Wireless, when the commission in December, 1928, and again in June of last year, sliced up the continental short waves for point-to-point use, was given 20 of the frequencies on a conditional basis. Previously the commission has assigned for the use of the nation's press 20 transoceanic channels, and the award of the domestic frequencies was contingent upon the prior use of the international channels.

But when the other applicants marched to the courts and the two injunctions were issued, Press Wireless found that its domestic channels were tied up in the litigation, and that 7 of the 20 international frequencies also were not available. Last week it filed its petition to intervene, and along with it a motion that the court so amend its injunctions as to permit it to use the frequencies tied up during the pendency of the litigation.

The others immediately filed objections to the stay order. But they agreed that Press Wireless might intervene if it waived its rights as to the jurisdiction of the court. Press Wireless, in an answer just filed by L. G. Caldwell, former general counsel of the commission, refused to do this. And now the court has denied its petition and its motion for modification.

The court is called upon to act in its capacity as a superior radio commission in this litigation. In the final analysis it can itself redistribute

'Day's Job Done Well' Leads Woman To High U. S. Post

Washington—(AP)—"I just did my job every day the best I know how."

That is Annabel Mathews' summary of past performances which led to her appointment, at a salary of $10,000, as the only woman member of the United States tax appeals board.

The former Georgia school teacher, who worked her way up in Uncle Sam's employ from a $500 a year job to one of the highest salaried women officials finds interest and romance in rows of figures and legal phrases which would baffle the average woman.

Miss Mathews is the type of woman who seems as much at home in a drawing room as behind an office desk. She likes to sew and to work in a garden.

She finds the feminine comfort these facilities, and revamp the whole continental structure as laid out by the commission.

she likes, after a day's hard work in the big brick house in Georgetown which she shares with Mrs. Mathews Walker Willebrandt.

There she has relaxation in music and conversation. Sometimes Miss Mathews and Mrs. Willebrandt forget law and weighty decisions, roll up sleeves, don aprons and bake cookies or make fudge.

Dr. Louise Stanley, head of the U. S. bureau of home economics will soon join their household. The two women lawyers plan a surprise for this expert of cookery when she arrives.

Miss Mathews is an aviation enthusiast. She has circled above Washington in a plane, flown to Pittsburgh and from London to Paris.

HIT-AND-RUN BOAT

Los Angeles—The hit-and-run driver has now taken to ocean vessels. One was witnessed here when the Williams line steamer San Gabriel ran into port and reported a minor collision while enroute to San Francisco. After the collision the ship which hit the San Gabriel escaped in the darkness without revealing its identity.

The population of the British Isles has just been estimated at 47,150,000.

A GOOD THING FOR APPLETON

Regardless of whether individuals supported or opposed the city manager form of government, there must be common agreement that the campaign which preceded the election was a salutary thing for the city. Not only did it focus public attention on municipal government and its operation but aroused an interest in city affairs that will be of lasting benefit.

Appleton needed a revival of civic consciousness. The public apparently had lost interest in municipal government, little or no concern was shown in what the city was doing, and something was required to rouse people from their apathy, to remind them that they are a part of the municipal structure and that in the final analysis they are responsible for the kind of government they have.

That this campaign did arouse public interest is proved by the fact that nearly 9,000 persons went to the polls, a record breaking vote in a municipal election. The people have a new interest in their municipal government and probably know more about it than they ever did before.

The information about city business, taxes and operations which the people obtained during the campaign will enable them to judge more accurately in the future whether their representatives in the city hall are measuring up to the opportunities before them. For a time at least there will be a closer scrutiny of the acts of our public men. The spotlight thrown on the city hall during the campaign revealed many things that the people will be interested in watching and having corrected.

Members of the government, keenly aware that their every action will be subjected to careful study by the electorate, no doubt will take steps to remedy or eliminate the abuses and irregularities that have been permitted to creep in. While aldermanic government was sustained, a suspicion has been aroused that can be allayed only by the council and the administration convincing the people that their interests are not jeopardized.

The campaign also revealed that there is room for considerable improvement in several city departments. An instance is the street department. Comparison of street maintenance costs in Appleton with other cities indicates that Appleton is spending a great deal more money than those cities are spending and it is probable that an investigation by the city will reveal many opportunities for greater efficiency and economy.

The campaign also revealed that Appleton is deficient in rendering services that are accepted as commonplace in other cities. Citizens here, now aware of these services in other cities, soon will demand them for Appleton, but at the same time they will demand that the municipal debt be reduced and that taxes be not increased.

How well the administration can meet this problem depends entirely upon its sincerity in approaching city operation as a business proposition. The campaign has focused public attention on the city hall, it has aroused the people to the necessity of taking an interest in their government, and the city officer who hopes to remain in public favor must be on the alert to give the people the kind of service they have a right to expect.

PRECEDENTS FOR "CONSULTING"

A curious thing about the alarm shown in the United States over the proposal of an "agreement to consult" is the assumption that this is a new idea. Edward Price Bell, one of the best informed American correspondents at London, writes:

Consultative pacts have been familiar in American diplomacy immemorially. America is really sponsor for such pacts. One of them is the Washington treaty of 1922 and literally scores of them are found in American treaties less well known. Any nation, indeed, can come to America at any time for consultation about anything.

Only a few weeks ago our government consulted with other powers to restrain Russia and China from drifting into war.

More than two-thirds of our senate voted to ratify the four-power Pacific pact of 1922, which pledged the United States to consult with the other powers to preserve peace in that region. The proposal at London, which has raised all this row, contemplates doing on the Atlantic, for western Europe, what we are already obligated to do by the senate's action on the Pacific, for the Far east.

That action, by the way, was in fulfillment of a pledge given by the party in power, which in its 1920 platform had declared for "instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war."

Millions of Americans, regardless of party, believe that is as desirable now as it was a decade ago.

ALL UNDER CLOUD

Gov. Kohler has granted the petition for the employment of special counsel to bring ouster proceedings to determine whether the corrupt practices act has been violated by Lieut. Gov. Huber. Presumably he will grant the petitions in the cases of Secretary of State Dammann and Attorney-General Reynolds. The governor has not been hurried into this action but has taken time to consider carefully the evidence and the charges. It is to be assumed that he would lean backward if anything to avoid a step as governor which might be interpreted as a political reprisal against his opponents or enemies. We are quite sure he would not invite such an inference. We believe he takes the responsibilities of his office seriously and conscientiously. It must be, therefore, that the facts placed before him have convinced him there is ground on which to institute the proceedings.

The action against the lieutenant-governor will be followed by proceedings against the secretary of state and attorney-general. Practically the whole machinery of executive state government is now under attack for violation of the corrupt practices act. Ouster proceedings are pending against Gov. Kohler and the governor is doing all in his power to expedite a trial. In our opinion the charges against the three minor state officers are more serious and on the surface have more validity than the accusations against the governor. There is hardly any possibility that they will be able to connect him with or hold him responsible for the large expenditures made by Republicans in the last general elections. The rest of the charges are trivial and senseless. In the case of the other officials there is the direct charge of failure to report contributions from which they benefited and the claim is further made that they were cognizant of these unreported contributions.

The row over alleged violations of the corrupt practices act was started by the Progressives plainly as an act of reprisal and as a follow-up of persecuting tactics employed against Mr. Kohler from the day he announced his candidacy. There is now promise that all of the facts will come out. We are to have a legal adjudication of the controversy and the record is to be made up according to the law and the evidence and not by the hurling of charges by politicians.

The Post-Mortem

SAMUEL INSULL, noted power magnate and such of Chicago is heading a plan to pipe gas all the way from the Texas panhandle district to Chicago. That's a distance of over nine hundred miles. Why doesn't Sammy save the millions his plan is going to cost and run the pipe line over to the Chicago Tribune tower?

Maybe you noticed the coincidence the other day—two practical jokes put a bottle of hooch in the luggage of a law-abiding and dignified judge. In the same issue which carried this story, one of the Post-Crescent's comic characters was placed in the same predicament.

From Barney the Bum comes the wilest letter we've received to date. We suspect that the post-office spent half an hour trying to figure it out. It carried more on the envelope than inside. There was, in fact, just room for the stamp. In one corner we found this:

You know there ain't no justice! Here I'm invited to a meeting by Harold the Seer. We are supposed to abolish Monday mornings and I'm supposed to be guest of honor and say my bit. But, do you think I got a chance to say it? No! He keeps on broadcasting and being a polite guy I sit down. Just as I arise again he orders me to throw a guy out the window that didn't do me any harm. (Editor's note: Who—the window?) Is it any wonder that I left the meeting in disgust and Hortense fell asleep?

Just for that I'm going to continue to work on Monday morning and if I ever attend any future progressive meetings again I'm going to take the police force, fire department and two aldermen. THE SCANDAL OF TONSILLECTOMY. 4. MODERN METHODS. NOT MORE EXPENSIVE.

Among 1,000 tonsils examined by a good typical dispensary (the pathologist published his report in the medical literature, and I should be glad to give any physician his name and the reference) 133 had "large pieces of muscle attached."

That's the answer to all the fine sounding talk of the nose and throat surgeons about "complete enucleation" and all that sort of thing.

Only 70 of the 1,000 tonsils examined contained true abscesses. Scars were found in 220 of the tonsils, and the pathologist concedes that scars are evidence of previous serious infection has cleared up, that the tonsils require removal or treatment.

Out of the 1,000 tonsils examined, 939 were "not seriously affected."

It would seem high time to call a halt on the massacre of the tonsils. Moreover, all this happened in a dispensary, in a typical American city.

One need not go to a dispensary of course. It is possible to have one's tonsils cut out anywhere.

That is, if one wants 'em cut out. I haven't looked at my own tonsils for a long while—I must have a look at 'em some time. But let me tell you some throat brothers and sisters, if mine were troubling me, or if I had a reasonable suspicion that they harbored a focus of infection that was injuring my health in any way, I'd give all these ever-ready operators a wide berth, indeed I would, and look up a good doctor to obliterate my tonsils.

Good doctors are doing it in a painless, safe, mayhap slow but sure way nowadays. How do they do it? By diathermy—electric desiccation or electro-coagulation. And I'll stake my health and reputation on it, that this new method is as effective as any surgical operation can be, no matter what the pee-vees and the organization clique may say or think about it.

Then, too, one may have one's tonsils obliterated by radium emanation today. The doctor implants in the center of the tonsil a minute radon seed, a measured bit of radium emanation, in a platinum needle-like case, having a fine silk thread attached. This remains in place several days, and is then withdrawn by the thread. The lymphoid tissue of the tonsil then begins to shrink or atrophy and in a month or longer the tonsil has practically disappeared. All painless, bloodless and perfectly safe. Of course these modern methods cost more and they're worth it. I am not familiar with the cost of radon seed treatment, but I know numerous doctors who use electro-desiccation with uniform success and the entire treatment usually costs the patient little or no more than the average tonsil operation does.

Tonsillectomy is rather a scandalous practice, however you view it. But who wants tonsillectomy anyway?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Please give the formula for Benedict's test solution which you recommend for the use of diabetes patient in making his own sugar tests. (L. J. M.)

Answer.—Dissolve 173 grams of sodium citrate with 200 grams of crystallized sodium carbonate in 700 c. c. of hot water. When all dissolved filter into a large beaker. Then dissolve 173 grams of copper sulphate (pure crystallized) in 100 c. c. of water, and pour this slowly into the first solution, while stirring constantly. Cool the mixture and add water to make the whole measure 1 liter (1000 c. c.), slightly over a quart. Most pharmacists have this formula, so you have only to ask for as much Benedict's solution as you want.

Orris Root.

Will powdered musc used as a dry shampoo harm hair which becomes very oily four or five days after a shampoo? (M. T.)

Answer.—No. It is a good agent to absorb and remove the sebum or oil, when a shampoo is not available. The application of a weak alcoholic solution of resorcin or salicylic acid or both to the scalp holds to overcome excessive oiliness (seborrhea). Thus ten grains of resorcin or of salicylic acid or of each, in one or two ounces of your favorite toilet water or witch hazel or bay rum, may be applied sparingly to the scalp, once a day by rubbing the fingers, and bearing in mind that resorcin may impart a reddish stain to gray or very light colored hair.

Styes.

I am fifteen and have always been bothered with styes and would like your advice. (P. R.)

Answer.—Repeat your request and inclose a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Tit for Tat.

Is there any value in greasing a person's chest or back for a cold or bronchitis? (Mrs. E. G.)

Answer.—If I had bronchitis and anybody attempted to grease my chest or back I'd bite him. External applications do serve a good purpose in some cases. We'll try to discuss it some day.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

TO gay Paree the Tynies went. The taxi driver kindly spent a bit of time just driving round to give them all a treat.

They'd gaze to left and then to right and everywhere saw quite a sight. Fine buildings loomed up constantly on avenue and street.

Far in the distance Clowny saw a pretty sight and, filled with awe, he shouted, "What is that tall thing that reaches toward the sky."

I know I've seen it in a book. The other Tynies took a look. Said Scouty, "Gee, it's monstrous. I just hope we ride right by."

The Travel Man then said, "Ask me about most anything you see. That is the Eiffel Tower and we will visit it, you bet! It is famous as can be. It's something you will want to see, and when we go there we will climb high as we can get."

"Right now, however, I would say that we locate some nice cafe. We'll find one with small tables that stand right out by the street. And there we'll have a bit of lunch. I think that is a dandy thing. Start thinking now, you Tynmites, what you would like to eat."

The taxi driver then said, "Say, I'm sure that I can show the way to just the place you're looking for. The food is very fine." "Hurrah!" cried Clowny. "That is great. Please hurry, 'cause it's hard to wait. It seems to me that right outside's a dandy place to dine."

The place was not so very far. The driver eyed, "Well, here we are. This is the Cafe de la Paix. And there's a table, too!" The bunch jumped out and sat right down. "Now we will do things up real brown," exclaimed the fine old Travel Man. "Ah! This is something new."

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—No member of Washington's diplomatic corps looks more like a diplomat than Peru's new ambassador to the United States—Manuel de Freyre Santander.

The successor to Dr. Velarde, dean of the corps "for a day," perhaps more closely resembles the diplomat of fiction than any other of the foreign contingent in Washington.

Tall, monodent, deliberate in manner and dignified, Freyre Santander looks and acts the part. He is more of an Englishman than a Latin American—in fact, they say in diplomatic circles that he walks like a British ambassador.

There is reason for this impression. Freyre Santander has spent most of his life under English influence. He was born in Washington while his father was minister to the United States from Peru. He was educated in England. For the past three years he has been his country's minister to London.

STUDIED ENGINEERING

The 58 year old Peruvian ambassador is well known in the capital. In all, he has spent some 12 years of his life here. He was first secretary to Peru's diplomatic mission to the United States before it was elevated to the rank of an embassy, and was, later his country's minister here. He returns, after many years' absence as diplomatic representative in other countries, to the most important post in Peru's foreign service.

Freyre Santander has made diplomacy his career. Educated to be a civil engineer, early in life he left this profession to become an attaché at his country's diplomatic post in Switzerland. Except for a short while spent in surveying in the interior of Peru, he has been little of the engineer.

His career in diplomacy has been a distinguished one. From attaché in Switzerland he was promoted to second secretary in Colombia, and then came to Washington as first secretary. His first service as a minister plenipotentiary was here. From Washington he went to China and Japan as minister, returned to Colombia and then went to Argentina.

DECORATED

Freyre Santander, with General Pershing for the United States and Edwards for Chile, represented his country in the famed Tacna-Arica boundary dispute between Peru and Chile. When accord was reached, he was sent to London as minister where he remained until his appointment as ambassador to the United States.

He has been decorated by his own government for meritorious service, and also wears decorations of the governments of China, Japan and Colombia.

Yes---this young man is wondering about a Spring Suit.

He cannot afford to be a spendthrift — yet he doesn't care to be penny-wise and style foolish.

He knows the style he wants — he has the color all decided and now he should know that the suit of his dreams has our label sewn into the pocket and that it is within his financial reach. . . .

CITY DIRECTORY GIVES WAY NOW TO TELEPHONE BOOK

34,500,000 Telephones in World. 20,000,000 of Which are in U. S.

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(AP)—The old time city directory now has given place to the telephone book. There is no mystery about this change in view of the fact that G. Stanley Shoup, chief of the communications section of the transportation division of the department of commerce, declared today that in the last year there was an average of 64,173,144 individual telephone calls a day, an average of one call for every two people in the United States.

The installation of telephones in late years has practically revolutionized American business and social life. It has speeded up the pace of business to a greater extent than any other factor and made possible the consummation of negotiations, which in the past would require days and weeks to complete.

The rate of growth of the telephone industry and the speed with which additional subscribers are being added indicate that its progress has only begun. In the last year approximately 300,000 telephones were installed in homes, offices and other buildings.

This is the largest number ever put into commission in one single year. In addition to the progress of telephony in the United States, there has been a remarkable extension of international communications, both to foreign countries and to ships at sea.

34,500,000 IN WORLD
At the beginning of 1930, the total number of telephones in the world was approximately 34,500,000, of which 20,000,000 and more were in the United States. It is estimated that 85 per cent of the world's telephones can be reached from the instrument of any subscriber in the United States. The average time for completing a long distance connection has been halved in the last five years. The reduction has been from approximately 7 1/2 minutes to 2 1/2 minutes. Errors in local calls in the last year have been substantially reduced from the average of 2 in 100 calls for 1928.

It no longer requires the extended period in order to get a telephone installed which was the case even a year or so ago. The average now is 7 1/2 days from the time of receipt of the order. This is a reduction from 4 1/2 days in the last 5 years.
Formerly it was necessary for the subscriber who made a long distance call to hang up the phone and wait until notified that the call had been completed. In the last year more than 70 per cent of the long distance calls were handled while the subscriber remained at the telephone.
The difference in making a connection between long distance and local calls was hardly noticeable in the last year.

The six companies reporting to the department of commerce spent $588-000,000 in the construction of new telephone plants and $45,000,000 for the construction of new manufacturing facilities. In 1930 approximately $700,000,000 will be spent for construction.

During the last year two additional short wave trans-Atlantic radio telephone channels were put into

THREE MORE SCHOOLS REPORT ON ATTENDANCE

Three more rural schools have reported on attendance records made by student, for March, according to A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. Following is a list of the schools, the names of the operation, making one long wave and 3 short wave radio telephone lanes. Work progresses on the new trans-Atlantic telephone cable and additional short wave channels are to be opened between the Pacific coast and trans Pacific points.

The trend to dial telephones making automatic connections is still in evidence. About 4,000,000 telephones or 25 per cent in this country are now on a dial basis and it is predicted in 1934 about 60 per cent will be so operated.

GARNER MOVES TO ASSURE PUBLICITY ON TARIFF RATES

Will Discuss Committee Action of Floor of House to Gain End Sought

Washington—(AP)—In spite of Senator Smoot's decision to make immediate announcement of the rates agreed upon by the senate-house tariff conference, Representative Garner, the Democratic leader believes the battle for publicity is not completely won, and he intends to carry it further.

He now intends to speak in the house every day, or so, and describe the circumstances leading to the agreements Smoot announces, but that, he says, is a question of obtaining recognition from the presiding officer.

"This story of publicity isn't over,"
he said today. "It is not always possible to get recognition on the floor of the house whenever it is wanted. If I can, however, every day, or so, I intend to speak for a few minutes after the morning session of the conference so the public can have a picture of what is going on."

"Well, Nick is a right good speaker," he paused in his answer. Garner and Longworth are close personal friends.

The Democratic leader has long been arguing that the rates agreed upon in conference should be made known at once. He said that Smoot's action, which reversed an arrangement approved by the committee, means that for the first time in a century the decisions of a tariff conference are to be made public immediately.

Smoot's action came after yesterday's session in which 52 disputed tariff rates were settled by the conference. As the ten members, five from the house and five from the senate, filed out, Garner said to the waiting press correspondents that he was ready to announce what had been done.

"Come inside," interposed Smoot who appeared in the doorway. "I'll give you every rate agreed upon. I want to make sure that all you fellows get this accurately," he then told in detail of the rates agreed upon.

Chairman Hawley of the house ways and means committees, who introduced the tariff bill, said at the time he thought it had been decided to wait until a schedule had been completed before any announcement was made.

"Yes, but Jack Garner says he's going to give out what we do every day and I'm going to do it myself," was Smoot's statement.

Interesting Menus

BY SISTER MARY

NEA Service Writer
During Lent when meat is off the menu occasionally through the week, the cook must look for other sources of protein.

Although some protein food is necessary to maintain a balanced diet, meat is only one of the growth-promoting and muscle building foods. There are at least five other groups which, if properly used, are the equivalents of meat in nutrition and general excellence. Eggs, milk and milk products, fish, nuts—particularly peanuts—legumes, and macaroni and spaghetti made from durum wheat are the sources of protein that are at every woman's hand.

It should be kept in mind when planning meatless meals for children that the protein of dried peas, beans and lentils is of a poor quality and plenty of milk must be supplied. Eggs and fish are ideal for children's meals, for they are easily digested and furnish "complete" proteins in abundance. Eggs are a concentrated food to the highest degree, because there is absolutely no bulk in the way of connecting tissue. Although they contain many substances the body needs for its development, meals in which eggs figure as the main course must be carefully planned.

POACHED EGGS WITH TOMATOES

Two cups canned tomatoes, 1 sweet green pepper, 4 rounds of toast, 4 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper.
Dip pepper in boiling water for five minutes. Dip in cold water and rub off thin outer coating. Remove seeds and white pith and cut flesh in shreds. Combine with tomatoes and simmer until thick. Pour onto a hot platter and arrange rounds of toast on the tomato. On each piece of toast put a poached egg. Melt butter and cook until slightly brown. Add lemon juice slowly and bring to the boiling point. Pour over eggs, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve at once.

A PERFECT COMBINATION

Milk and fresh vegetables combine with eggs to make a perfect meal. Milk supplies the lime lacking in eggs, and fresh vegetables furnish bulk as well as their vitamin and mineral content.

Much has been learned in the last few years about the vitamin content of eggs and they come under the list of protective foods, along with cod liver oil, spinach and orange juice. Properly cooked eggs are easily digested and can be served to an entire family from the two-year-old up. Poached eggs, eggs soft cooked in the shell, eggs hard cooked in the shell, carefully scrambled eggs, baked omelets and shirred eggs are excellent ways of cooking eggs for children. A rich sauce can be served separately to adults if the eggs alone are too bland. Hollandaise sauce poured over a poached egg on a split and toasted English muffin results in "eggs Benedict," a delicious and smart dish.

Hushpuppies combine appetizingly with eggs. Anchovy paste and sardines add piquancy and interest to the mildly flavored egg. Poached eggs are good with creamed vegetables on toast. This makes an excellent two-in-one main dish. Creamed celery, spinach, asparagus or tomatoes are especially appealing.

The Comanche Indian war in 1854 was the smallest ever in the United States ever engaged in, only 425 soldiers being employed.

The Story of Sue

MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

AS Sue and Sarah heard a strange man's voice informing another man to read the newspaper story of Harry Becker's engagement and get another version of whom he was marrying, Sue's thoughts flew to the incident of the night before. Someone had asked Jack whose ring Barbara was wearing, and truthfully, but misleadingly, he had answered that it was Harry Becker's.

Sarah was up almost at once and came back a second later with a paper in her hand. Together they looked at it.

Barbara's face, lovely, mysterious, beguiling, smiled back at them sweetly. An inset showed Harry Becker. The story which questioned the reason for Sue's part in the melodrama of the past two weeks, carried the by-line of Ruth Bentley. Sue remembered that she was the newspaper girl who had been so curious to find out when she had become engaged to Harry Becker. She also recalled Jack's warning that she shouldn't get confidential with her, and that she had belonged to a family which had lost its money, and therefore didn't want anyone else to have any, either.

She told Sarah, everything she knew about the girl and the remark of the night before. "Of course the story traveled like prairie fire," Sarah commented. "And it would naturally come back to Miss Ruth Bentley who had this stunt thought up in a half minute. Well, she'll do some apologizing and correcting now, all right, and probably not write for the interested public any longer. That's the lowest, most underhanded, meanest trick..."

"You can bet it is," a drawing voice interrupted, and Sue and Sarah both glanced up at the redheaded reporter, Donald Payne, who had interviewed Sue the day before, sat down at their table.

"For the last hour I've been after you," he explained to Sue. "What's the low down on the engagement installment, or do you know?" Sue hesitated, then told him.

"When?" he gave a long whistle. "Now I see a ray that hasn't anything to do with the dear old Edison bulb. Our city editor was about ready to have me drawn and quartered for sitting by and letting them scoop up, but he'll be slipping another bill in the little yellow envelope which some thoughtful person hands me every Saturday morning. The competition will apologize and it won't say it with flowers, either, but it will say it with a high, 'And how?'"

Sarah laughed at him and his own frank eyes smiled back appreciatively. He turned to Sue again. "Sorry, Miss Maryman, but you're forgetting your manners. Would it be too much bother to introduce me?" His voice was careless, bantering, and... clean.

"Sarah!" he repeated when he had been presented. "Now I know. I wrote a story about you, too... the missing heiress... but forgive me, Miss Slade... what a whale of a difference a few clothes make!" "Oh, here you are Sue. May I see you alone a minute?" Jack's voice interrupted.

collet ways of cooking eggs for children. A rich sauce can be served separately to adults if the eggs alone are too bland. Hollandaise sauce poured over a poached egg on a split and toasted English muffin results in "eggs Benedict," a delicious and smart dish.

Hushpuppies combine appetizingly with eggs. Anchovy paste and sardines add piquancy and interest to the mildly flavored egg. Poached eggs are good with creamed vegetables on toast. This makes an excellent two-in-one main dish. Creamed celery, spinach, asparagus or tomatoes are especially appealing.

MOTHERS AVOID WALLFLOWERS IN CAPITAL

Washington—(AP)—There are few wall flowers at debutante parties in Washington.

Through the ratio of women to men in the capital is reckoned at 18 to 1, careful mothers and chaperones see to it that winsome debas have plenty of cavaliers.

Because of this wise and determined foresight, the girls fairly dance the soles off their slippers in a single evening. There are no disconsolate damsels draped along the walls.

Long lines often extend half the length of the hall room. A debutante must divide one dance among three or four men. That makes her look very popular. The stags "cut in" without ceremony. Debs smile and nod graciously and a moment later they ditch these partners for new ones.

Debbie's spirits must never flag, her smile never waver, no matter how many hours she has been dancing. That's the social code.

PAJAMAS FOR DINNER WEAR TO BE SMART

Paris—(AP)—Glorified pajamas for dinner wear are considered smarter than evening skirts by chic young Parisiennes.

As feminine as long-skirted dinner dresses, but less formal, the pajama costume of chiffon, lace or satin is a compromise between courtiery and lively youth which wants to conform to correct contours, but doesn't care about convention.

The new models are so much like skirts in appearance that the most squeamish could not think them unfeminine and the casual observer wouldn't know they were not skirts.

Chiffon pajamas, each leg a couple of yards around the ankle, are frequently made over hifalutin foundations of satin, reaching a few inches below the knees.

The effect of these pajamas is that of a long skirt over a short foundation skirt. Fullness is eliminated around the hips, but clever arrangement of godets and gathers camouflages the trouser cut.

The Jordan river has been accounted the most crooked stream in the world. But it cannot compare with the White river, Arkansas, which travels 1000 miles in traversing a distance of 30 miles.

SENATORIAL RACE IN ILLINOIS FULL OF MUD-SLINGING

Personalities Are Brought in Despite Woman's Presence

BY OWEN L. SCOTT

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Chicago (CPA)—This country's first masculine vs feminine senatorial contest is ending as a mud slinging bee with Chicago's gangland double supplying one important diversion.

No feelings are spared in the slapstick session which ends at the polls next Tuesday. Both side sought to blacken each other with the stigma of gang sanction. Personalities of candidates and their relatives are being paraded for the education of voters, who have commenced wondering when feminism is to bring higher plane politics.

Ruth Hanna McCormick, congresswoman at large from Illinois, finds herself accused of following old line masculine political bosses of the William Hale Thompson school, instead of looking to the modern leaders among less practical women political workers. At the same time she is being confronted with the political and personal affairs of her husband, the late Senator Medill McCormick, and of her father, who was Mark Hanna.

Senator Charles S. Deneen, who is fighting for re-nomination at the Republican primaries, is spending time answering charges of political deals of a none-too-savory character, and explaining his connection with "Diamond Joe" Esposito, a man Chicago had accepted as a gangster. He was shot down on the street at the height of the primary campaign two years ago.

From this cat and dog fight, with its injection of personalities, has grown the "rose" story, now spread from one end of the state to the other. In this story, brought to light by Mrs. McCormick, who had a stenographer present at several Deneen meetings, the senator gives a word picture of the funeral of "Diamond Joe." It now is listed as one of the state's prize campaign pieces and follows.

DESCRIBED AS MARTYR

"My opponent," said Mrs. McCormick, "injecting 'Diamond Joe' into the present primary campaign described him as a martyr who died in the defense of law and order."

"I went to this funeral," said the senator, "because he died in the common cause."

"He told his audience that he was the Godfather of one of 'Diamond Joe's' children. Chicagoans have been regaled with many horrible descriptions of funerals of gangsters and my opponent has added to this metaphorical literature a chapter on the legal homage paid to 'Diamond Joe'
by his friends on the day of his interment. The senator told how $5,000 has been contributed by 'Diamond Joe's' friends and neighbors and then went on to say:

"They bought a metallic coffin,
had a great church, had an opera singer, beautiful music. I never heard music rendered so beautifully. I never saw such a funeral."

"He quoted 'Diamond Joe' as having said at a banquet a year before his death:

"When I die I want you boys to gather up all the roses you can buy in town and sprinkle them on the pathway between the Church and cemetery so I will go home on a primrose path."

"They went out the senator continued, 'and bought with the money, 19,000 roses and filled their great cathedral with roses, and sprinkled flowers all over the cemetery. Then they conceived that a large number of airplanes operated by Italians could go and make a noise and drop the flowers in the open grave as they passed over it. Wouldn't that have been a funeral fit for the kings?"

WEATHER WAS BAD

But the weather was so bad that they only spread the flowers for ten miles from the church to the cemtery. That does seem extravagant in our way. It seems a waste of time and money to spend $10,000 on flowers for a funeral."

Returning to this picture, the Deneen forces have had Mrs. Esposito write an open letter defending her husband. She says:

"Mrs. McCormick has complained because remarks were made by some one about her husband and father.
But now she is resorting to blackening a dead man's reputation. My husband was killed because he wouldn't go with Crove and Galpin or Savage (Thompson leaders) or desert Senator Deneen and Judge Swanson.
Now he is gone, Galpin and Savage and Crove are supporting Mrs. Mc-Cormick and she is trying to make my husband a campaign issue."

The present battle is that sort of a fight, even with a woman candidate. Another example of the total disregard for feelings is afforded by the Deneen camp Edward R. Litsinger, politician and big gun speaking of Mrs. McCormick. She had spoken of the Four Horsemen of the Deneen organization, with Litsinger as one.

"Now talking about jockeys and four horsemen," said the speaker,
"I can see an estimable woman riding with one foot on a steed of white purity, the other foot on a black as coal steed, the city hall horse. Faradoxical as it seems, they are trotting in opposite directions, yet the equestrienne keeps her footing. If she isn't an acrobat qualified to ride in the best circus, I miss my guess."

A SURE SYSTEM

"Now," said the woman who was going abroad, "Fido is very fussy about his food."

"That's all right, mum," said the owner of the dog's house, "we don't feed 'em for three days after they come in, and then they ain't so fussy."—Tit-Bits.

EXPLOSIONS SCENE LIKE BATTLEGROUND OF WESTERN FRONT

Sections of Buildings Hurlled
8 Miles—10 Dead, Over 30 Injured

Philadelphia (P)—The site of Pennsylvania Fireworks Display company, Inc., at Devon, Pa., where a series of explosions yesterday killed 10 persons and injured more than 30 others, today presented a scene reminiscent of the western battlefront after a concentrated bombardment.

Ten blackened holes in the ground marked the spots where had stood the ten small frame buildings comprising the plant. Trees on the seven-acre tract of land were shorn of limbs and the tract was covered with debris. Every building on the site was blown to bits by dynamite and black powder.

After searching the smoldering ruins without finding additional bodies, the authorities said they believed all the victims had been accounted for. All those killed were employees at the plant but many of the injured were hurt in their homes nearby.

State police estimated that at least 200 homes had been damaged.

The plant was located near the Devon station of the Pennsylvania railroad, 16 miles from Philadelphia and sections of building were hurled eight miles. The explosions were heard at Cape May, N. J., more than 100 miles away.

Alexander Vaidaro, head of the company, said as to the cause:

"The only thing I can think of that might have caused it is friction. It would have been possible for the nails in the shoes of workmen moving about in the building to have set off the dynamite."

Philadelphia — Policemen have been called several times by census enumerators having difficulty with getting information from divorced persons.

APPLETON MUSIC
LOVERS PLEASSED
WITH HOROWITZ

Critical Delegation from This City Heard Pianist at Sheboygan

When Horowitz, the pianist who comes to the Lawrence chapel Satur- day evening, appeared in Sheboygan a year ago a critical delegation from Appleton attended the concert John Ross Frampton professor of piano at the Lawrence Conservatory of Music one of those who saw and heard Horowitz, returned an enthusiastic admirer of this youthful genius. Professor Frampton says of Horowitz: "In these days of many aspirants for fame as pianists and also, unfor- tunately, of great exaggeration in the press notices as to the artistic prowess of the musicians, a person is apt to be actually prejudiced against a new-comer, if he is very highly praised. Yet when we read from the pen of Mr. Moore, of the Chicago Tribune, that Horowitz changed the ordinarily sedate or- chestral patrons into a group of cheering applauding maniacs, that his playing was 'epic, breathtaking, something to raise the blood pres- sure' when we read that Rachmanin- off, speaking of that same perfor- mance of his own Third Piano Con- certo said that he knew of no other pianist who could adequately play that concerto and that he himself would not venture on it without ab- breviating it we are prepared for something unusual. But even yet there remains the fear that his per- formance might prove more pyro- technic than musical. And so it was with mingled feelings that I went to the recital by Horowitz Monday night. But there was little of uncer- tainty left when he had finished the program.

"There have been three or four outstanding men pianists in the last few years. Cortot, of all men, seem- ed to have the greatest control of two or more tones sounded simultane- ously, and this even when coupled with terrific speed and great brillian- cy, or softness, as needed. But Cor- tot has many finger slips in perfor- mance, and his melodic powers while strong, are not superlative. Moise- vitch has not only great speed and accuracy and clarity but also deli- cious reserve, often using a slower tempo than other men and making the composition delightful by the de- pth of his performance. But Moise- vitch is hardly calculated to arouse an audience into frenzied applause, finally chiselled though his work may be. Of all players Rachmaninoff has shown the most masterful ease, the most consummate surety, and this regardless of power or speed used. But at times he seems a bit cold. Nature endowed Paderewski with the most astounding ability to sing in tones of the piano. No other pianist has approached him, and to this he owes his great popular- ity. But he is not highly endowed, technically. There are many pianists of much less artistic worth who have more natural and acquired technical ability, so that Paderewski in comparison with these men often sounds as nearly clumsy as one of his artistic sensibilities could sound. And he has never learned to subor- dinate his accompaniments to the melody, if this involves any difficul- ty."

"I have worshipped at the feet of Paderewski for thirty-five years and I am very unwilling to see my idol dethroned, but I rather believe Horowitz did it. Of course Cortot and Rachmaninoff both surpass Paderew- ski whenever there is any question of technique and especially of subdu- ing the accompaniment. But neither can sing as does Paderewski. I can- not yet bring myself to say that Hor- owitz can, but I rather think so. I have heard him but once; And Hor- owitz is 24 while Paderewski is 63."

DOESN'T FOLLOW TRADITION

"Horowitz gives very broad inter- pretations and with astounding in- tentness, yet his climaxes never come too early in the piece, nor do they ever pass the limits of his pho- nomenal technique, however much they may surpass that of any or pos- sibly every other man. Moreover he does not always worship that old ty- rannical fetish, Tradition, and when he does depart from the beaten path, his interpretations are never errat- ic caricatures but are sane and con- vincing and above all things, lovely. Horowitz plays very quietly and with almost no mannerism aside from a lifting of himself from the piano stool, a sort of projection of his body into the intensity of the music, and even then it is pardonable and rarely obtrusive. For it is but the natural follow through (in golf parlance) of the muscular or mental activities required to secure his astounding effects I recall hear- ing a record-holder say on a race track that many a man has lost his race because he would not swing his arms." And so let Horowitz make these motions so long as he achieves the beautiful music he does. Hor- owitz has tremendous power and un- believable softness, astounding speed combined with impeccable accuracy, and all cemented with superlative musical endowment. With him the question is never display or tech- nique, but MUSIC, IDEAL BEAUTY IN TONE. And with all this he is very modest and self-effacing, and he is, moreover, still willing to smile at his audience in a quiet yet win- some way as he acknowledges their tumultuous applause. Applause! Why Monday evening the house had been quiet for several minutes after repeated recalls and bows from the artist, when all of a sudden the ap- plause started again and he had to come in and give us an encore."

NEW ENGLAND ACTS AGAINST PLANS TO MERGE RAILROADS

Provides First Check in Program Outlined by Commission

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, by Conn. Press
Washington—(CPA)—The Interstate commerce commission has received the first check in its plan for the consolidation of the railroads of the country. The opposition has come from New England and promises to assume important proportions. The New England states are apparently a unit in opposing the commission's plans for consolidation of the New England railroads.

Meetings of the conference of representatives of the governors of the New England states consider the railroad situation has fully established this trend of opinion. The position assumed by the governors' conference is that the plan of the commission would bottle up the trade routes of New England and put the outlets in the hands of two systems, instead of allowing free competition between the four present trunk line roads in eastern territory.

They explained that the Hudson river acts as a natural barrier between New England and the rest of the country just as the Mississippi river separates the east and the west.

All connection with the outside territory from New England is by way of what are known as bridge lines. The conference point out that if the plan of the commission are put into effect, traffic routes by way of the west must pass into the hands of the New York Central, which controls the Boston and Albany, thence it will be routed as the New York Central sees fit to its destination. Traffic going south, they say, must of necessity be carried largely by the New Haven road, which has a natural connection with the Pennsylvania railroad into and through New York.

STOPS COMPETITION, CLAIM
They declare that under such conditions there is no open competition to keep service up to standard or give assurance to shippers that their goods will be so routed as to avoid delay. The general feeling reported is that New England inhabitants and business men desire that the railroads of New England shall be contained and that there shall be no influence of trunk line railroads on New England carriers.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, which reach New England by way of their allocated subsidiaries, never with the New England stand for free and open competition into and out of that section. The New York Central and the Pennsylvania have asked for an additional hearing which was to be held Thursday and at which they hoped to change the sentiment against their plans. Within the next few weeks the proposed plan of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad will be presented to the commission.

Meantime, all four great eastern trunk lines are gradually picking up control of the various units allocated to them under the commission's plan. The Baltimore and Ohio has already started to do this and the Chesapeake and Ohio will follow immediately.

Within a brief time there will be presented to the commission a request for permission to issue a temporary volume of Chesapeake and Ohio stock, which will be used in the taking over of the lines which have been allocated to the Van Sweringen system. This issue has already been approved by the stockholders and simply needs formal permission from the commission.

Practically all roads throughout the country are dusting and refurbishing their excess holdings, which they plan to use in trades, and which will give them the various lines they desire. Among such trading material are the Virginian railroad, the Lehigh Valley, the Denver and Rio Grande-Western and a score of others.

TALKIES FOR NIEVITS
Fredericksburg, Denmark—American movies meet with much disfavor in Europe and the recent attack by a Social Democratic leader named Fornaes is typical of the propaganda spread against them. Fornaes said that the "American horrors" are calculated essentially for negro tribes and other half-witted peoples. Most of them are Tommyrot with no culture background.

ICELAND PREPARES TO OBSERVE 1000TH LAW BODY BIRTHDAY

Country Claims to Have Oldest Legislature in the World

Reykjavik, Iceland.—(P)—Iceland, one of the smallest of nations, but the greatest per capita exporter of wool, is making ready to entertain this summer in honor of the one-thousandth birthday of her parliament, the first national legislature of the civilized world.

King Christian of Denmark, who is also head of this independent monarchy, will be chief figure at the celebration, but all other leading nations, including the United States, will also be represented officially. King Christian will travel there on a Danish cruiser and will be accompanied by Queen Alexandra, Crown Prince Frederick, Prince Knud and other members of the royal household.

Iceland being considered one of the Scandinavian sisterhood, most of the non-official visitors are expected to come from Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland. But special parties are also being organized from the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Germany and the Netherlands.

These visitors will be housed on their ships while here, neither the hotel nor private accommodations of the island—there are only about 100,000 inhabitants in the kingdom—being adequate for such an influx of guests. The capital itself has a population of only 25,000.

While the Icelandic parliament, or Althing, first gathered on Thingvallir, or "place of assembly," in the year 930, the history of the country goes almost two centuries back of that. Irish monks reached Iceland in 795 and found it uninhabited. About 860 A. D., a Norwegian viking, Naddod, rediscovered the country and Gardar Svarason, a Swede, was driven by storms to its shores.

The first permanent settler was Ingolf Arnason, a Norwegian. Arriving in the coast in the year 874, he cast overboard his high seat pillars and vowed to make his home where those symbols of permanency were washed ashore. He found them on the beach of what is now the harbor of Reykjavik and a statue to his memory by Einar Jonsson, foremost Icelandic sculptor, has been erected here.

The country owes its commercial eminence to the fish in its waters and the sheep on its hills. It exports the fish to all parts of the world, the only other notable item being timber from the hills. The total is around $13,500,000 yearly, something in the neighborhood of $100 a month for each man, woman and child in the country.

There is no army or navy to support, but there are plenty of schools and a very low rate of illiteracy. The budget balances easily, the national debt is negligible and the Gulf Stream continues to send its warm waters near the coast and modify the otherwise natural severity of the winters.

COMMISSION CANNOT CHANGE GAME LAWS

Madison.—The conservation commission does not have the power to change game laws.

This is a statement issued by the conservation commission in response to petitions received by the commission to change some of the laws made by the last legislature.

Petitions to change the time of the rabbit season, bearing from 450 to 500 signatures were received recently from Outagamie, Calumet, Brown and Shawano counties. These petitions ask that the rabbit season be changed back as it was prior to the time of the last legislature, extending from Oct. 1 until Feb. 1. The present rabbit season is from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1.

The law creating the conservation commission gave it authority to close seasons in cases of urgent emergency only on any species of any game or fish in any specified locality or locality.

The commission adopted the petition of the Outagamie county, and after public hearings had been held in the localities affected.

There is no provision which gives the conservation commission power to open a season or to change the dates of an existing season. The duties of the conservation commission are to administer the laws as passed by the legislature.

CONFIDENCE GAME IS WORKED ON BROADWAY

Detroit.—(P)—This is the story of a confidence game conceived in Detroit and executed on world wide Broadway, to the discomfort of one Henry Elspas, a Gotham restaurateur.

Elspas, who has a restaurant out where Broadway crosses 102nd street and four Detroiters did him out of $7300 and came within an ace of getting $15,000 more, all because he didn't catch on soon enough.

Elspas was not suspicious when two men proposed to buy his restaurant. It seemed quite natural for one of the men to find a pocketbook in a New York hotel and there didn't seem to be anything irregular in the owner's receiving them by an "inside tip" on a Detroit betting syndicate. The tip won a thousand dollars, and Elspas came here to collect. It was asked to put up money to cover his bet and that was the end of the $7300. Later he telegraphed the Detroit office offering $15,000 more but his message was unanswered. Elspas all at once smelled a rat.

In the police lounge's gallery yesterday he picked out the pictures of three of his acquaintances. Lacey warrants are out for Robert Kohler, Thomas Fitzgerald, Frank Davis and John Doe.

PERFECTLY NATURAL

"If you haven't a doctor," said the tourist at the hotel in which what happens when a man is taken seriously ill.

"Oh, they just die a natural death,"—Hummel, Hamburg.

Lets Her Tresses Grow

The most famous red hair in America soon will be twice as famous—or perhaps it would be better to say twice as much of it will be famous. Yes, folks, Clara Bow is letting her hair grow. It is almost down to her shoulders now. And she intends to let it grow on and on.

Many Unknown Worlds Are Believed To Exist

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

New York.—(P)—Existence of countless new unknown worlds—perhaps much like ours—is hinted by one unusual aspect of the reported discovery of the new planet.

This hint is in the handicap that the planet has no long.

Astronomers knew just where it ought to be, yet the world's keenest eyes failed to see it.

Instead of looking into what the layman sees, they night sky in which a planet would gleam jewel-like, their telescopes revealed some far off depths as a blaze of light, upon which finding the new pin point of brightness was perhaps the biggest needle-in-the-hay stack job ever tackled.

These curtains of light which telescopes disclose in various portions of the sky are made by stars—not merely millions of them, but billions. Each star is another sun capable of having planets.

But do these other planets exist? Recent astronomy has made some interesting suggestions thereon.

First, there is the amazing number of outer suns. Sir James Jeans, British astronomer, says the world's greatest telescopes actually have brought into view about 1,500 millions of suns, all belonging to the galactic system of which earth is a part—that is, just a small portion of known space. This number he says certainly is only a fraction.

He says suns in our own corner of space may range from 30,000 millions to 300,000 millions. And he adds that two million other nebulae or universes seemingly filled with stars are known.

An inconceivable number. But it can be understood by saying that probably if each sun everywhere had as many planets as ours, there would exist a separate planet for the abode of every human being since history began.

Furthermore there might be a lot of celestial forerunners on still empty planets.

Astronomers however find reason to doubt that most suns have planets. It is even hazarded that ours may be almost the only planets.

This idea of our uniqueness springs partly from belief that planets are thrown off by a sun under gravitational pulls of another sun that gets too close. Though the number of suns is countless, the protective distances separating them are still more vast.

These distances are so great that Sir James calculates a sextillion of years would be likely to pass before one star collided with another.

That seems to reduce the planet building business to a low ebb.

TRAIN CUTS HOSE AND DWELLING BURNS DOWN

Jackson, Mich.—(P)—Smoke was rolling from the W. S. Kimball house as the Jackson Fire department, sirens shrieking, and bells clanging, dashed upon the snow.

SOVIETS STRIVE TO REDUCE LIST OF UNEMPLOYED

Collective Farming Is Expected to Stop Drift of Farmers to City

Moscow.—(P)—Collective farming is seen by the soviet union not only as a means of getting rid of the "kulaks," or private land owners among the peasants of Russia, but also as a method of checking the drift to the cities and thus relieving the unemployment situation.

The importance of this latter consideration has been emphasized by a report on the number of idle. The latest figures fixed this at 1,241,000 in the middle of January. Most of those who were out of work were women, or children under 18 years of age, and the big majority of this entire list was made up of unskilled labor.

The government statisticians who analyzed the figures concluded that the chief cause of the situation was the constant stream of peasants from the villages. These people were seen as actuated by a desire to work in the larger communities, rather than remain in the country.

In planning the project of industrializing farm work, the government has taken steps therefore, to make the collective farms as attractive as the cities. Recreational centers are to be established in the state rural communities and facilities given for the sanitation of the cities and economy of construction that is afforded city workers.

SEVEN HOUR DAY

The seven hour day and "non-stop" working week with staggered start days for all workers, are mentioned as other factors which will help reduce unemployment. It is estimated that the number of persons working for hire in the soviet union has doubled in five years. In August, 1929, the total reached above 12,000,000 and by the same time this year it is predicted that this will have grown to above 35,000,000.

Having more than a million and a quarter of unemployed, and at the same time experiencing a lack of skilled labor, the government has opened a chain of trade schools for unskilled workers. These have been planned to instruct 130,000 in a house building, 20,000 in factory work and as many as will in the operation of tractors and other farm machinery.

A definite percentage of women must be admitted to these training courses. Also, in order to give a chance to some of the thousands of unskilled youths who yearly enter the ranks of the unemployed, a special "industrialization enrollment" has been instituted by the People's Commissariat of Labor which is planned to provide 60,000 apprentices for factories.

The huge pump was started. Every thing was in readiness for another vicious battle by the Jackson fire department.

"Turn on the water" yelled the chief.

And then a freight train roared down the right-of-way, right over the hose which the firemen had laid across the tracks and the W. S. Kimball house burned down.

STANFORD U. GETS BACK FAMOUS AX STOLEN IN 1899

Stanford, Calif.—(P)—The famous Stanford university ax, stolen from several husky guards at a football game in 1899, today was back home after reposing in a vault at the University of California for 31 years.

Three young men, posing as news cameramen and reporters last night seized the emblem from University of California students who were taking the ax to an armored car, in expectation of continuing the journey to the annual "ax rally" of their school. A tear gas bomb was hurled by the raiders during the melee.

Several thousand California students, after the seizure, guarded roads leading back to the Stanford campus but in vain. An hour after the initial engagement the business part of the ax was in Stanford. The former possessor succeeded in retaining a part of the handle.

The ax symbol of what Stanford intended to do on the athletic field to the University of California, was displayed first in 1898. At that time the initials "give 'em the ax" was comparatively new.

At a football game, the next fall University of California students obtained the implement. Since then the annual "ax rally" held by the Californians has been a vexing matter to the rival school.

Girl Startles Critics By Leading Famous Orchestra

Berlin.—(P)—Antonia Brice, a courageous California girl, has upset the musical apple cart at the German capital by daring to conduct an evening's program of the famous Philharmonic orchestra.

The critics have had to abandon their traditional standards to answer the question, "Can a woman take a man's place as wielder of the baton?"

Their replies may be divided into three groups. "No," say those who oppose woman's entry into the sacred preserve of man.

"Why not?" ask those who after hearing Miss Brice conduct a concert of St. Paul. Further in church the orchestra followed Miss Brice as well as it follows the average male kapellmeister.

"Wait and see," writes a neutral group which finds that Miss Brice showed decided talent but, because of lack of routine and experience was too academic in her motions and stuck too closely to the score.

In one thing, however, the critics agreed, namely, that Miss Brice is an excellent musician who is bound to force ahead, whether as conductor or as operatic coach.

Antonia Brice came to Berlin two years ago on a scholarship from the University of California to study composition, orchestration, opera

HAIR THAT SPARKLES!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous.

A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair; cleanses it; makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair! The consistent use of Danderine will dissolve the worst crust of dandruff, soothe, heal the scalp; stimulate the growth of long silky abundant hair.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It makes the hair easy to manage; holds it in place for hours. "Set" your waves with it, and see how much longer they stay in.

HERE ARE THE FACTS

Whether the National Tea Co. or an independent merchant sells groceries to you, the money covering the cost of these groceries goes to the producer whether in California, Illinois or New York.

National Tea Co. as well as independent merchants pays the following bills: rent, light, gas, advertising, repairs, etc. Both pay employees' salaries—all this money remains in the town.

National Tea Co.'s economical distribution of the necessities of life saves the consumer considerable on grocery bills—that money stays in town with the consumer. Even if the net profit which amounts to 2½% leaves the town the advantage is decidedly in favor of the consumer because of the National Tea Co.'s method of distribution.

OPEN BIDS SOON ON ANNEX TO CAPITOL

Cost of Proposed Project Will Be Revealed Next Thursday

Madison — (P) — With the opening of bids next Thursday, the cost of the proposed capitol annex will take tangible form in contractors' figures. About $450,000 has been appropriated for the construction of the annex but whether contractors will take the figure as a conjecture at present. The last legislature appropriated $600,000 for the structure but $150,000 of this was consumed in the purchases of a site on the shore of Lake Monona.

Under plans of the legislative interim committee on state office buildings, the annex will house several state departments which now occupy rented quarters in various parts of the city. The committee does not intend to make the space in the annex available for any offices now occupying the state capitol.

Some of the departments which will probably be moved into the annex are: child welfare, parole board, agriculture department branch, securities division, entomology, real estate board, highway commission, and the engineering department of the industrial commission.

The legislative committee has looked with favor on placing these departments in the annex and leaving out the auto license division. A feeling that the auto license division may be abolished or its work so simplified as to demand little space has influenced the committee in making provision for the exclusion of this department. The last legislature voted to abolish the department but Gov. Kohler vetoed the bill. Under the bill, license would have been issued by county clerks.

Three units are provided in the architect's sketch of the annex and it is upon one of these units that the other wing of the central unit to be added with the construction of tunnels to the heating plant and price of equipment is likely to bring the cost of the entire project to about $2,000,000. It has been pointed out.

The new building will probably be built of Wisconsin granite, quarried near Amberg and prepared by labor from the state's penal institutions. According to the managers of the quarry, it can supply a better grade of granite than was shipped from Maine for construction of the capitol.

HAWKS PLANS SHORT STOPS IN INDIANA

East St. Louis, Ill. — (P) — Capt. Frank M. Hawks' custom glider, the "Eagle," which he hopes to pilot to the first trans-continental crossing of a motorless-heavy-than-aircraft, today expected to make brief stops in Terre Haute and Indianapolis, Ind., and Reach Columbus, Ohio, to spend the night. It will be his sixth day of the trip since leaving San Diego Sunday with plans of alighting in Van Cortlandt Park, New York, day after tomorrow.

The "Eagle" has already completed 1,665 miles of its 2,800-mile journey from coast to coast. Attached to a plane piloted by J. D. "Duke" Jennings, Jr., by means of a 500-foot line, Capt. Hawks has been responsible for maneuvering the 50-foot wing spread glider through air currents over desert, mountain and plain.

Capt. Hawks soared aloft at Tulsa, Okla., at 10:18 yesterday morning and encountered fog and later

"bumpy" air near Springfield, Mo., where he landed while the towing plane took aboard fuel. He arrived at parks airport here at 5:45 p. m., and came down at 6:10. He was immediately whisked from the field to the annual meeting of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce where he was the honor guest.

The glider in covering the 1,665 miles has been aloft 21 hours 24 minutes towing time and 4 hours 25 minutes soaring time over the 11 airports where he has stopped.

Capt. Hawks' plans called for taking off from here between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning.

New York — Maybe corned beef and cabbage and lemon meringue pie will be as popular in their day as the Maine Stein Song. Rudy Vallee likes them very much, judging from the pleasure he showed when they were served at a dinner given him by Gilda Gray.

CANCER SOCIETY WARNS AGAINST NEW EXPERIMENT

Don't Place Too Much Faith in Reports, Public Is Told

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—The executive committee of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, speaking cautiously and by indirection, but none the less emphatically, warns the public against placing too much faith in the anti-cancer glandular extract experiments of Dr. Walter B.
Coffey, of San Francisco.

Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, professor of surgery at Johns Hopkins Medical school, Baltimore, who came to New York Wednesday night to attend the monthly meeting, summarized his views in a single succinct remark: "Don't take it too seriously."

Dr. C. C. Little and other members of the committee showed alarm and something like embarrassment at the mere mention of the new cancer experiments. They at first said it was not on their schedule for discussion, but were reminded by Dr.
Bloodgood that it might be considered. Asked later, after an extended meeting, whether Dr. Coffey's experiments had been discussed, the committee, through Dr. Little, issued the following statement:

"The executive committee of the American Society for the Control of Cancer at its meeting of April 2, 1930, voted that it deprecates the action of the press in repeatedly making public premature and unconfirmed reports of alleged progress in the field of cancer treatments, because they frequently lead to false hopes and subsequent disappointment."

WON'T AMPLIFY THIS
This statement the committee refused to amplify. While it contains no mention of Dr. Coffey and his present researches, it was issued in reply to the question of whether the committee had considered or acted upon this subject. The American College of Surgeons recently voted adversely on a proposal to send a committee to the Pacific coast to study Dr. Coffey's work.

On the whole, organized medicine,
while not condemning Dr. Coffey's

French Students Fight For Lecture Room Seats

Paris—(AP)—Immediately upon their arrival in France to study, several thousand American young men and women annually ask:
"What is a French school like?"
The answer for them is: "Nothing that you have ever seen before."

Imagine what a great surprise it is to an American student to find that in order to get a seat in the first four rows—which are usually shunned in the United States—it is necessary to show up from an hour to two hours before the lecture. And, again, what a lack of familiarity he feels when he finds the long tables unmarked with initials, queer looking faces and designs.

There is no substantial reason for believing that French students have and greater yearning for learning than have the Americans, but they make it a practice to be in the classroom early. Seats in the front row are at a premium, for it is to the front rows that the professor lectures. He seldom glances about the experiments in advance, has shown a decided aloofness, not only to these but to other recent cancer experiments, insisting that only long periods of uninterrupted research, free from outside probing, give hope of progress in controlling cancer.

There was no implication by the members of the committee that Dr.
Coffey and his assistant, Dr. John D.
Humber, had made unsupported claims for their work.

"Our only concern is in the harm that is done by the sensationalizing of experiments of this kind," said one member of the committee. "Naturally, we are not prepared to pass judgment on what is being done in San Francisco. But we do know that in innumerable instances of this kind, not only in cancer but in other fields of medical research, a vast amount of harm is done by arousing in afflicted people hopes that cannot be realized."

Dr. Coffey himself has deplored the widespread public interest in his work, and begs that he be let alone for two or perhaps five years, to follow to the end his tentative theory. Both Dr. Coffey and Dr.
Humber complain that the publicity attendant to their researches has embarrassed and hindered them.

room to impart information to the extreme sides and rear.

The fight for seats is intense and in some schools students who live outside the city are given preferential rights because they are unable to arrive long enough ahead of time to compete with their city brother. Many intrigues arise.
Friends retain seats for friends and often a student who has not made some alliance, is forced to take a back seat. Some actually sit through one or two lectures in which they are not interested in order to be certain of a comfortable writing space for their own class.

If fraternities existed in France,
the fight for seats would turn out to be a battle among fraternities.

The entrance of the professor into the classroom is a ceremonial affair.
Professors as a rule teach in several schools. They are not provided with departmental or individual offices in school buildings. Hence, they arrive for their lecture from the street. A small room for their coats and hats is provided. From this room they are ushered into the classroom by a beadle who steps aside with a smile as he passes the threshold and lets the teacher mount the rostrum.

The beadle's smile has a meaning, for students are prone to greet some professors rather rudely. Regardless, as soon as the usher appears in the doorway, the hall resounds with applause. During the lecture there is frequent applause.

But if the professor is not a strong disciplinarian, the clapping and whistling does not cease throughout the hour, and his voice is not to be heard beyond the front rows. He takes the attitude that it is the students' hard luck and not his. Professors are not infrequently forced to forego their instruction for the day.

Another curious relic of old-time education exists. It is not so long ago that girls began to flock to French schools of higher learning.
Professors have not yet become accustomed to them, especially those who have been lecturing for twenty-five or thirty years, and this type is the rule rather than the exception.
As far as the professor is concerned, he does not recognize their existence in the classroom. He begins

EAR-RINGS AGAIN POPULAR IN PARIS

Call Attention to Ears Which Are Almost Covered by Coiffures

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—With its usual charming inconsistency, Paris is covering the ears and then calling attention to them. Coiffures generally come low enough so that the ear almost vanishes, but a cross marks the spot in the shape of ear-rings. Often these are button-jewels, large and imposing, but sometimes they are the long, waggly kind.

Smart London women are vastly intrigued by sheets and pillow cases in pastel shades, as were smart New York women this winter. But the London women have thought up a new idea. They match the pastel bedding to the window draperies, and vice versa. The drapes may be cre-tione of many colors.

Lingerie could hardly be more ornate than now. Not content with strewing romantic rosebuds hither and yon singly or in delightful gar-lands, the designers now use at least two materials for the garment itself, not counting lace. Satin is arranged upon chiffon. Georgette is inset with net, ribbon or organdie.

Among the items available for your afternoon ensemble it limps sugar for the afternoon tea in shades to match your gown. That is, provided your gown is of some fruit tint such as lemon, orange, lime or raspberry.

THIS IS ONE OF BEAUTIES IN HAREFOOT

One of the most perfect inate of all the ladies in the Haresfoot group of ladies who are men is Phillip S. Cole-hour, specialty dancer featured in Button Button, thirty second annual production of the popular University of Wisconsin Haresfoot club which will appear in Menasha at the Brn theater April 7.

He does three dances which would make any woman green with envy.
He dances on his toes like a veteran.
He shakes his hips like the Queen of Sheba and he has the winning smile of the woman you always like to take out.

His first number is one which famous burlesque queens would do well to emulate. His second is a toe dance that exceeded the fondest expectations of the director. And the final one occurs when he aids the rest of the cast in closing the show bidding good bye till next year.

Bottle Of Rosin Breaks Easily Over Man's Head

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Hollywood, Calif.—(CPA)—How to bring a bottle down so hard on a man's head that the weapon flies in fragments while the head remains intact, was a problem recently faced by Henry King, director for Inspiration Pictures. The bottle incident occurs during a glorious free-for-all in a West Indies saloon and,
as filmed, the bottle descends with a crash which invariably jerks a gasp from the audience.

"There's no faking about that wallop," Mr. King explained when approached today on the subject of assault with intent to kill, "the punch isn't pulled, as they say in the ring.
We merely picked the right kind of bottle, and a deuce of a time we had picking it. Papier Mache wouldn't shatter. Real glass would shatter the victim as well as the implement. So we constructed a bottle of rosin."

With the bottle matter settled, they still had to put into the villain's shoes a squeak loud enough to warn his confederate at a crucial moment.

Jean Hersholt tried various pairs of shoes, none of which had adequate microphone voices. Finally, they inserted beneath the sole of some perfectly good oxfords a bit of the rosin left over from the bottle and thus enabled Hersholt to shriek his raucous way through the plot.

The villain, indeed, became so in-
take out.

BOY TENNIS PLAYERS ORGANIZE SUNDAY

Appleton boy tennis players who are interested in a tournament sponsored by the boy's department of the Y. M. C. A. this spring will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the association building to organize. C.
C. Bailey will preside at the meeting.

The tournament is being planned to give boys a chance to compete in tennis matches at least until school closes. There will be no tennis team at the high school this spring and the "Y" meet is being considered in its stead.

trigued with the squeakage that he meant to save the shoes as a souvenir. "I thought they'd be great for New Year's parties, or maybe Fourth of July," he admitted. But Mrs. Hersholt thought different and the shoes disappeared.

As a young man the late Dr. R. V.
Pierce, practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and near for his great success in alleviating disease.
Finally he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and put up in ready-to-use form his GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY,
the well-known tonic for the blood.
This strength builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective when in private practice.
It aids digestion, acts as a tonic and enriches the blood—clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear.

MEETING OUTLINES PLANS FOR STUDENT TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Approximately 400 Graduates and 400 Parents Expected on Tour

Complete tentative details of the trip to Washington, D. C., for Outagamie-co rural school graduates, their teachers and parents, were made public this week by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools.

Preliminary reports from the county indicate that the graduates, numbering more than 400, will be represented almost 100 per cent. In addition there will be about 400 adults, including nearly all the rural school teachers and many parents and relatives of the graduates.

The complete cost of the round trip will be only $25. This includes $20 for the fare both ways, and $5 which will pay for one night in a hotel in Washington, five meals in Washington, and the eight seeing trips throughout the district of Columbia.

Mr. Meating points out that no more money will be needed unless the students wish to have a little pocket money to spend in Washington for post cards, sweets, etc. There is to be nothing on sale on the train. Arrangements for feeding the entire crowd on the way back are being made now by Mr. Meating.

The crowd will leave Appleton at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 11. There will be 13 or 14 all-steel, vestibuled coaches. Nobody will get off the train, with the exception of a stop for sightseeing at historic Harper's Ferry, before it reaches Washington, D. C.

SLEEP ON TRAIN

The train will arrive in Washington about 10:30 on the morning of Thursday, June 12. Coaches will be equipped with reclining chairs and the crowd will sleep on the train the first night.

On reaching Washington the group will go to the hotel where they may wash and clean up. They will then be assigned to their rooms. After dinner at the hotel the entire group will march, in sections, to see the government buildings. Each section will be headed by a capable leader whose duty it will be to keep track of every member of the section. The sections will be small enough so that every group will be adequately taken care of.

The entire afternoon will be spent in viewing the government buildings and the crowd will remain in sectional formation all the time. During this trip the students will see the Smithsonian Institute with its famous museum. It is in this building where Lindbergh's airplane is on display. Many other things of interest will be seen here, including the first steam locomotive. The crowd also will see the Bureau of Printing and Engraving where all the United States money is made, the Lincoln Memorial and Washington monument, the White House, and probably President Hoover, the U. S. Department of Agriculture buildings and the Botanical Gardens.

In the evening they will return to the hotel for lunch and after supper the crowd will visit the Congressional library before returning to the hotel for the night.

PLAN GROUP DIVISION

The crowd is so large, Mr. Meating points out, that practically the entire hotel will be occupied that night, only by the Outagamie-co graduates. Before leaving Appleton, Mr. Meating says, the group will be divided into sections from each neighborhood with four, six or eight, girls or boys in each group. An adult, known to all the members of the group, will be placed at the head of the crowd. Under this arrangement Mr. Meating says all possibilities of lonesomeness will be abolished.

In the morning the crowd will go to Mount Vernon by bus. Here they will go through the famous house where Washington once lived. On the way back they will see Arlington cemetery where the grave of the Unknown Soldier is located, the graves of many other of the country's great men, the remains of the old battleship, Maine, and the Arlington amphitheatre. They will then return to the hotel for dinner.

After dinner the crowd will walk a few blocks to the capitol where the commencement exercises will be held and the diplomas will be awarded. Special diplomas are being prepared for the occasion, Mr. Meating said. Following the exercises there will be a tour of the capitol building.

After supper at the hotel the crowd will return to the train and begin the return journey, arriving in Appleton about 6 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, June 14. Another complete check will be made on the crowd before leaving Washington to see that no one is left behind.

In addition to all these precautions throughout the trip there will

Trout Fishing Is Most Productive During May

BY B. A. CLAFLIN

In my articles of last week I touched on early midseason trout fishing. Each part of the open season has its devotees. Some there are who fish for trout during May because taking other game fish is unlawful at that time. But when pike and pickerel may be caught, they desert the singing brooks and bolsters, white water homes of fontinalis and irides to throw the plugs into the lily pads, or trail the seductive spoon over the bars of their favorite lakes.

For the big majority of trout fishermen I believe I can safely say that May fishing is most productive. And for that very reason, the logic of my attempt to get the last legislature to change the open season on pike and pickerel to May 1, becomes apparent.

If that were done, many angles, instead of haunting the trout streams, would do their fishing on the lakes and big rivers in quest of wall-eyes and the less desired pickerel. Hence the trout would benefit by this. It is a difficult matter, however, to get the solons of conservation to open their eyes and see the wisdom of such a move. The be half a dozen nurses, a doctor, and a rest coach on the special train.

Mr. Meating tells the members of the group that in a short time he expects to issue a bulletin outlining the reasons why this trip probably is one of the most worthwhile projects ever sponsored by the county school department.

pike and pickerel are through spawning by May 1, therefore, an earlier season would in no way work to their disadvantage.

It is true that such a change would not stop all early trout fishing, but the saving would be great; and the anglers who would not be enticed from their fly rods and delicate tackle, are the ones who fish purely for the love of it, and not for meat.

When the hot weather of mid-summer comes on, and the trout streams recede to a low stage, many of the ambitious bait fishermen are sorely put to meet with any success. Even long before this time arrives they are ready to quit. From this point on the fly fishermen come into their own. And to their credit it must be said that a full creel is not what appeals to them. Rather they would study the stream they visit, ascertain the nature of the insects upon its surface, match them with skillfully made imitations and attempt to outwit a goodly specimen or two and call it a day. That is real trout fishing.

And the cream of it all is dry fly fishing. The sportsman who deigns to use nothing but a floating fly is called a purist. Each season finds the number of purists growing larger. The sport is more interesting because the first is seen to rise, often just as flash but enough to show you that your imitation did not turn the trick, for no trout ever misses a fly when he actually wants it.

A dry fly should always be cast upstream and allowed to float down.

G. O. P. Choice?

Joseph R. McNutt, above, Cleveland bank executive, is mentioned as a possible successor to Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, now under fire in Congress. Nutt, however, denies he has been offered the chairmanship.

This is necessary so that the current will not submerge it. And remember that early season insects are very small, though it is contrary to the general opinion of inexperienced fishermen. For that reason, then, use small patterns of flies. The following will be found effective before hot weather sets in: Dune, Coachman, Grizzly King, Hare's Ear, Mosquito, Caddis, Quill

LEGION PLANS BASEBALL FOR WISCONSIN BOYS

Wausau—(AP)—Between 7,000 and 10,000 boys will play baseball under the banner of the American Legion this summer. Dr. S. L. Cohen, Wausau, state athletic officer of the legion, believes.

He says 200 of the 370 posts in the state have signified intentions of promoting the American Legion junior baseball project. Efforts are being made to have each post form a league with two to eight teams as competitors.

Under the program, posts league champions compete for the district titles, then for state honors, followed by sectional, regional, and national championship play. Last year the junior team from Cadwath post, Milwaukee, won the state championship. The nine then went to Minneapolis.

Gordon, Silver Sedge, March Brown, and Black Gnat.

In my next article I will speak of the proper patterns of flies and mention some good waters for later fishing, that is, from about July on until the end of the season.

apolis, where it won the north Mississippi sectional title. It lost, however, in the regional meet when it played in the North Rocky mountain district.

Dr. Cohen announces six teams are under way here, with Hoo Beuz, former pitcher for Green Bay in the W-I league, organizing one of the groups, and Frank Ulrich, one a catcher with the Milwaukee Brewers, organizing another of the teams.

In promoting junior baseball, Dr.

Cohen is being assisted by William Sullivan, Milwaukee; Clarence Bates, Appleton; Harry Post, Rice Lake, and James Holmstead, Black River Falls.

Valley League Baseball Moguls Meet Here Sunday

COMPLETE PLANS FOR OPENING 1930 SEASON ON MAY 11

Curtain to Be Pulled Down, Sunday, Sept. 7; Labor Day Open Date

CLUB owners of the Fox River Valley Baseball league will meet here Sunday afternoon for the purpose of appointing the executive committee and transacting other business that will pave the way for the pennant chase on Sunday May 11.

The schedule committee composed of Marty Lamers, Kim-Little Chute, Les Smith, Kaukauna, and President C. A. Baetz, Appleton, has drawn up an outline which provides for a twice around playing series. The curtain will be pulled down on Sunday Sept. 7, Labor Day is an open date in the schedule and it was to serve as a breathing space for the postponed games.

The Valley leaguers are looking forward to their best of the home product, but reports from all around the circuit carry the news that the teams are being strengthened in preparation for the 1930 flag hunt.

The class of ball in the Valley loop is as good as any in the state. This was evidenced last fall in the post-season series between Nee-Menasha, Valley league champions, and Sheboygan, winners of the hunting in the State League. The Chairs carried off the diamond honors, two games to one after some sensational baseball.

Moguls of the Valley figure that this year's race functioning with six clubs will be productive of better play than in 1929 when two so-called "weak series" were also members of the family. A pre-season forecast shows that all the clubs are about on a par with a six-way race for the hunting in the offing.

The only team leader change will be at Appleton where Len Smith will share the reins with Eddie Kotal. The Lawrence football coach is going to school for six weeks this summer at Columbia University, New York, and while he is away Smith, former Kim-Little Chute center fielder, will be boss of the Collegians.

The Green Bay Baseball association is now in the midst of a drive for grandstand funds which looks very encouraging. The park at the "Bay" is the making of a superb layout and the new stand will greatly add to its attractiveness.

PLAY TITLE GAME IN KIMBERLY TOURNEY

Pinks Beat Blacks Thursday and Go into Final Round Against Yellows

Kimberly—A large crowd of excited fans saw Clifford Wydeven and his Pinks eke out a 21 to 13 victory over the Blacks, here yesterday in the fourth day of play in the Kimberly Clubs boys basketball tournament. The win gave the Pinks the right to play Joseph Mennen and his Yellows tonight for the championship.

The first game Thursday afternoon was a consolation game between the Browns and the Whites. The Browns won the contest and eliminated the Whites by a 14 to 9 count. William Patrick and Robert Vander Velden were the big guns for the losers, captain Sarashin and Theodore Lemmers tied for honors with a field goal and two free tries and two field goals respectively.

In the second game the Pinks by better shooting won from the Blacks 21 to 13. The game was a nip and tuck affair, with the Blacks having the advantage until late in the second quarter, when Captain Hopkins committed his fourth personal and was forced to leave the game. The score then was 7 to 4 in favor of the Blacks, Hopkins having scored six of his teams seven points. The Pinks immediately took advantage of the absence of Hopkins and started a rally that brought the score to 21 to 10 at the close of the third period.

The Blacks played great basketball during the last period, holding the Pinks scoreless while they ran the count to 18 and 21. Captain Wydeven scored six field goals for the Pinks and was the high scorer of the game.

This afternoon at four o'clock Clbourne Vander Velden and his Greens will meet Carl Doerflinger's Browns, and at five Brier's Reds will play Hopkins' Blacks. The winners of these two games will meet in the consolation finals immediately after Lenten services. Following this game the Pinks and Yellows will clash for the championship.

MEEHAN TALKS ON ROCKNE'S CONDITION

Irish Mentor Ill Because of Refusal to Follow Doctor's Orders

New York—(AP)—Chick Meehan, New York university football coach, who spent most of the winter discussing tactics with the ailing master, Knute Rockne, on the sands at Miami Beach, Fla., believes "Rock" is still a very sick man, mostly because of his own courage and unwillingness to admit that he must be very careful of his health.

"We sat one day with a doctor on the sands," Chick explained, "and Knute listened to a lecture on his condition. The doctor prescribed absolute inactivity in bed for six months, then ordered that Rock receive supervised exercises from a wheel chair next fall."

WACO, TEX.—One of the noteworthy features of the Yank's pilgrimage has been the splendid way that the Florida country club gentleman, George Herman Ruth, has merged democratically back into the bosom of the baseball set. He has jumped from the case and the luxury of his St. Petersburg existence into the hurlyburly of trouping through the sticks with no noticeable effort.

If he has felt any qualms of regret over giving up a country club existence to go knocking around the country, a different town every day,

JACK ELDER MAY GET INTO PRO BALL

Chicago Baseball Teams Like Pitching Ability of Notre Dame Star

Copyright 1930

New York—Chicago major league clubs are casting affectionate eyes in the direction of Jack Elder, former Notre Dame track and football ace. Although Elder until his graduation from Notre Dame at the end of the first semester, was one of the most brilliant figures in the college sports world, his baseball talents have been little heard of heretofore.

The man who broke more track records than there are tariff arguments in Washington, however, came to Notre Dame from Lebanon, Ky., with a big name as a high school pitcher.

Just as he came back into the Yank's intimate family circle with a fine Bohemian flourish so have his teammates accepted him frankly and willingly with no reservations. They are not awed by being so near a man who spent a month aristocratically cloistered with the social elite of the Pinellas peninsula.

Nay, even more than that, for the Babe goes there one better and doffs his shirt when he sits down with his teammates at an evening for a poker session in the smoking compartment of the regular Pullman.

His wife is not along to remind him that so famous a man probably should not be seen in his underwear. He is free and unrestrained. He enjoys himself to the utmost. The only vestige of his country club life that has clung to him is a pair of black silk suspenders—evening dress suspenders. He displays these somewhat proudly over his silk underwear, as he sits of nights at his cards.

Injuries Take Two Men From Wisconsin Crew

MADISON—If Coach George (Mike) Murphy of the University of Wisconsin crews did not have a wealth of optimism and an iron quality of courage, the latest misfortune to strike his Badger rowing contingent might well be expected to plunge him into despondency.

Just now, two of his best oarsmen are suffering from injuries and are unable to practice. The afflicted athletes are Joe Lucas, stroke, and Warren Drouet, who captained the 1929 varsity boat.

A certain percentage of injuries and a certain loss of practice time are expected in any squad. The disquieting thing about these cases, however, is that the injuries are of such a nature that they may keep the men out all season.

Lucas, who has been showing great promise as stroke of the varsity boat, is laid up with an injury which is old and threatens to become chronic. The permanent loss of Lucas would be a terrific blow to Badger crew prospects. Drouet is less seriously hurt, being laid up with a wrenched knee sustained while he was working on the dock at the boat house last week—but bad knees are always a problem because of the likelihood of recurrence.

With the comparatively small number of capable oarsmen at his command now, Coach Murphy should lose the services of Lucas and Drouet would probably have to disband the junior varsity.

Yet in spite of these troubles, plus the inevitable late training start here and the lack of a regular boat builder and rigger, Mike keeps up a cheerful front and works like a Trojan, intent only on turning out the best crews possible under the existing conditions.

"It's a long time until our first race—against Pennsylvania here, May 24, and a lot can happen in the meantime. Our 'Jayvees' will be weak at best, but we will have a varsity crew that will give them a race," is Coach Murphy's only comment.

As made up at present, the first and second varsity boats include the following candidates: Varsity: stroke, Weber; 7—Keenan (W); 6—Marple (W); 5—Zabel; 4—Woodward; 3—Smeda; 2—Ihde; Bow—Oberdick (W); Coxswain—Jones. Junior Varsity: stroke, Tonker; 7—Goodman (W); 6—Parks; 5—Lumpkin; 4—El-dredge; 3—Stoglund; 2—Hovey; Bow—Sperling (W); Coxswain—Miller.

HOLD SOFTBALL MEETING AT "Y" TUESDAY NIGHT
Appleton boys who met a couple weeks ago at the Y. M. C. A. to plan for a softball league to play until school closes this spring, will meet Tuesday evening at the "Y" again to make arrangements. The last time the boys met a snow storm set in and killed all chance of playing ball at an early date. With the belief that spring finally has arrived the boys now will organize their league and start play as soon as possible.

VIKING GRIDDERS IN SPRING PRACTICE

Kotal and Rasmussen Will Have Squad Out on Grid-iron Monday

Lawrence college football squad probably will begin spring practice Monday, according to Eddie Kotal, who will take over the reins this spring to prepare himself for the job that becomes his next fall. Coach Clarence H. Rasmussen, the retiring mentor, will assist Kotal during the spring workout, or rather Razz will take complete charge of the line and Eddie the backs, the two groups being combined after the first couple weeks of activity.

Uniforms were to be handed the squad Friday, Kotal said, so things will be all ready for the opening signal Monday. Just how large a squad will report for the spring workouts is a question. Many men will go out for track this spring and be unable to play football. However, Kotal expects his squad will run about 50 men.

Solie was a grid star during his high school days and went south a few years ago to attend Miami and strut his stuff for Florida fans. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Solie, 314 N. Drew-st.

"You'd be surprised," replied the sprightly Sophia. "With a rasping voice like yours, love is likely to fly out of the window and land on the back of your neck. What our love needs is insurance."

"What insurance?" he wondered.

"The insurance of OLD GOLDS, boy friend. Throat-ease and tender tones caused by the mellow, mild, heart-leaf tobacco; vocal cords that act without a struggle; no tickle, scratch or scrape. OLD GOLD yourself, Marmie, and we shall be inseparable. There's not a bark in a billion."

TEXAS FIVE PICKED TO WIN NATIONAL BASKETBALL TITLE

Athens Quint Defeats Chicago Entry in Impressive Game, 38-15

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO—(AP)—For the second straight year, a band of red-shirted giants from Athens, Texas, stands out as the team to beat in the annual struggle for the national high school basketball championship.

As the fight for the crown entered the quarter-final round today, there were but few among the large throng of thrill-seeking spectators who expected to see the Texans defeated. Seven teams, two from Georgia and one each from Louisiana, New Jersey, Kentucky, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, still had hopes, but they appeared to be only the hopes of fighting, high spirited boys.

Last night, the Texans gave a demonstration of their power at the expense of the Y. M. C. A. day school team of Chicago, which previously stunned the tournament by upsetting Florida's state champion, Robert E. Lee of Jacksonville. They used their first string line-up for the first period and ran up 19 points to none for the Chicago team in seven minutes. Then they sent in their second team and it polished off the job with a 35 to 15 victory.

Wheatland, Wyoming's championship team, meets the defending national champions tonight. The West-erners have one big chance by stopping the Hornet parade to another title because they sing 'em for long distances.

MILWAUKEE HEAVY LOSES TO LEVINSKY

Referee Stops Fight as Dave Maier Fails to Survive Damaging Blows

Milwaukee—(AP)—Flooding Dave Maier, Milwaukee, twice, and repeatedly driving him to the ropes, King Levinsky, Chicago, last night won a technical knockout in the first round of a scheduled 10-round boxing bout at the Auditorium here.

The referee stopped the fight as Maier clung to the ropes attempting to recover from the King's terrific punches. His seconds practically carried Maier to his corner. Levinsky tipped the scales at 172 and Maier weighed 171.

Frankie Cheek, Milwaukee, 124, won a referee's decision over Roy Peters, Chicago, 126, in a six-round mix. Len Bennett, Los Angeles, 141, lost the decision to Joey Sutter, Milwaukee, 141, in six rounds. Mitz Minikel, Milwaukee, 172, knocked out George Rohrick, Milwaukee, 152, in the second round of their scheduled six-round fight.

Horton Smith Won $15,500 In Winter Tournaments

ATLANTA—(AP)—For the second consecutive year, Horton Smith tops the field of money winners among the winter golfing troupe.

The wandering professional, who learned his golf in Missouri's Ozarks, not only has pocketed the most money but also has won more tournaments than any of his fellow cash performers.

Victorious in five tournaments, finishing second in six and placing high up in a number of many others, Smith accumulated prizes of $15,500. In addition he played in many remunerative exhibition matches.

Gene Sarazen, stocky New Yorker, who won golf's largest prize of $10,000 at Augusta Caliente, ranks second with $12,500 for his season's labors, but the other pros are far behind.

Smith enjoyed a successful period on the Pacific coast, winning the Pasadena, Berkeley and Portland, Ore., opens. He was second to Craig Wood in the Hawaiian open and tied for second in the Augusta Caliente and in the Los Angeles tournaments.

Leaving the pros during their journey through Texas, Smith joined the nomad army again at Savannah, Ga., where he took first honors after 50.

BRUINS FEAR FOR HORNSBY'S HEEL

Cub Second Baseman May Have Another Operation on Ailing Foot

Los Angeles—(AP)—Real concern over the condition of Rogers Hornsby's ailing heel was felt in the Chicago Cub camp today as the club faced its final engagement with the Los Angeles.

The Rajah dropped out of the line-up yesterday under doctor's orders and it was feared he might be forced to have another operation which would keep him out of action until the middle of the season. The continued hard hitting of Niggs Stephenson and the work of the veteran pitchers, served to somewhat offset the gloom caused by Hornsby's incapacity.

JIMMY FOXX GETTING HIS BATTING EYE

Richmond, Va.—(AP)—Jimmy Foxx, Athletics first baseman, finally has found his batting eye. He was in a slump during most of the southern training season, but as the team neared home yesterday he cleared a home run and a double, batting in three of the Athletics four runs against Charlotte.

Using out Bobby Jones, national open champion. His Florida tour brought him first place in the central open at Orlando, second in the rich La Gorge open at Miami and a tie with Frank Walsh for second at St. Petersburg.

Smith, with the majority of the nation's leading professionals, took a neat lucing from Bobby Jones in the southeastern open at Augusta, this week, but Horton topped the professionals and took the $1,000 first prize. He finished eighth in the north and south open at Pinehurst—an event he won last year.

SWEETSER QUILTS WALKER CUP TEAM

Roland Mackenzie Will Try to Join Amateurs on English Trip

Copyright 1930
New York—Before Jess Sweetser left for Ashville, N. C. recently after resigning from the Walker cup team, Roland Mackenzie, Washington golfer, informed the Sivanoy amateur that he was ready to fill his place and sail with the team on April 20.

Before leaving on his much needed vacation, Sweetser informed H. H. Ramsay, vice president of the U. S. G. A., with genuine regret that he was unable to take seven weeks away from his business.

Besides, always dogged in his links career by illness, Jess has been fighting a heavy cold for a month. He feared he might not be able to round into tip-top shape for the rigors of British golf at this time of the year.

For a few hours there were grave doubts whether a replacement could be easily obtained, although two alternates were designated when the team's lineup was announced. The first alternate Mackenzie has been a participant in Walker cup competition in Scotland and here in 1926 and 1928. The second alternate is Maurice McCarthy, Jr., 1928 intercollegiate champion and present metropolitan and New York State amateur champion, whose school work prevents him from going.

Mackenzie talked with Sweetser by telephone and said that he had hurriedly made the necessary inquiries and that he will be able to fill Jess' vacancy. It had been feared that Mackenzie might not be available inasmuch as he has recently undertaken new business connections. Official confirmation of this shift should soon be made.

SOX DROP CONNALLY

INDIANS USE KNIFE ON ROOKIE TALENT

Walter Simmons Stars as Club Humbles New Orleans Pelicans

New Orleans—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians squad in training here showed more cuts of the pruning knife today.

Business manager Walter McNichols announced last night that two recruits, Roxy Lawson, right handed pitcher, and Jerry Harris, college catcher who has been one of the sensations of the training season, both will join the Terre Haute club of the Three-I league. The Indians, however, will keep springs on them.

This cut brings the squad within only seven above the limit to which it is to be pruned. The squad now numbers 32.

JOCKEY KUMMER TO ATTEMPT COMEBACK

New York—(AP)—Clarence Kummer, who rode to fame to the renowned Man O'War, plans a comeback.

Each morning finds the erstwhile idol of the turf diligently striving to get in condition at Aqueduct. At present he is several pounds overweight but hopes to get down to riding poundage and at the same time regain the favor of the jockey club, which refused to grant him a license in 1926.

Kummer who ranks with Laverne Fator and Earl Sande in his prime, finished the 1925 season with a clean record but his actions off the track were said to have aroused the ire of the racing solons.

Denver—Eddie Mack, Denver, outpointed Gaston Charles, France, (10); Eddie Murdock, Denver, outpointed Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, N. Y., (10); Mickey Cohen, Denver, knocked out Buster Brandon, Salt Lake City, (1).

Milwaukee—Levinson, Chicago, stopped Dave Faler, Milwaukee, (1); Mitz Minikel, Milwaukee, knocked out George Rohrick, Milwaukee, (2).

VIKE TRACK MEN IN TOURNAY SATURDAY

An all-campus indoor track meet in which each contestant will enter six events will be staged at Alexander gymnasium of Lawrence College Saturday. The meet will be the first all campus track event of the season and is being held to give track men a chance at competition.

The six events to be staged are the high jump, 45 yard dash, running broad jump, 45 yard low hurdles, shot put and six lap run.

Track practice at Lawrence was resumed Wednesday with opening of school. The next inter-society relay is scheduled for April 12.

STADIUM SEEKING GAGNON, GRIFFITH

Tuffy Will Be Given Chance to Avenge Six Round K. O. Last Week

Chicago—(AP)—Stiller Jack Gagnon, French-Canadian heavyweight from Boston, stands to make himself around $25,000 for meeting Jerry (Tuffy) Griffiths, of Sioux City, Ia., and Chicago, in the Chicago Stadium April 30, all because Chicago fight fans refuse to believe his technical knockout of Tuffy at Philadelphia last Monday wasn't an accident.

Gagnon was not a high priced attraction before his victory over Griffiths, but when matchmaker Nate Lewis, of the Stadium, tried to sign him up for a return match with Griffiths, the Boston puncher demanded a guarantee of $20,000.

The stadium has changed its policy and no longer gives guarantees, but the bout stacks up as a great natural for Chicago and Lewis offered Gagnon 20 per cent of the gate, which in case of a sellout at $4.99 tops, would amount to about $20,000. Gagnon, who ever handles his business apparently was not so certain of a sellout and Lewis finally was authorized by the stadium directors to make it 30 per cent.

The bout would be the windup of an all-heavyweight card for which matchmaker Lewis has opened negotiations with Paulino Luculan, George Godfrey, Herro Charles, Otto von Parat, William Stribling, Arthur De Kuh, Al Fay and Paul Pantalco.

CANADIANS TAKE HOME STANLEY CUP

Recapture World Hockey Trophy by Beating Boston Bruins in Playoff

Montreal—(AP)—The Stanley cup, for 37 years Canada's most coveted sports trophy and the present emblem of the world's hockey supremacy, has come back to the dominion after two years in the United States, through the amazing efforts of Les Canadiens of Montreal. The flying Frenchmen recaptured the trophy by defeating the Boston Bruins in two successive games of the playoff series between the survivors of the national hockey league competition. The Bruins were 1-0-1 favorites.

The Canadiens won the first game 3 to 1 and took last night's dual 4 to 3.

The victory gave the Canadiens possession of the Stanley cup for the fourth time since it was first awarded by Lord Stanley of Preston in 1893. Previous triumphs were in 1916, 1919 and 1924.

BABE RUTH BUSTS RECORD HOME RUNS

Wichita Falls, Tex.—(AP)—The New York Yankees came to Wichita Falls and were conquered but the real winner was Babe Ruth.

While the Yankees were losing to the local entry in the Texas league yesterday Ruth clocked two home runs, the second of which was one of the longest drives of his career. The center field fence here is 400 feet from home plate. Ruth's second drive cleared this barrier with plenty to spare and landed nearly 500 feet from the batter's box.

Chester, Pa.—Johnny Roberts, Huntington, W. Va., stopped Nick Cassiano, Baltimore, (2).

THE BIG SHOT

by FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: An ambition to become a novelist brings Enid Howard to New York City. In an East Side restaurant she meets Phil Martin, a newspaperman. He tells her he is on the trail of the Big Shot, king of New York gangsters. Frank Shive, a gangster, who is Martin's informant, accosts Enid one night and gives her a photograph. He is slain as he walks away. Enid discovers the photograph—the Big Shot—is of her missing brother. She determines to find him and picks up a trail that carries her to a second avenue house which the Big Shot and two accomplices have entered. Enid is spurred to action when she sees a policeman run away to summon help after becoming suspicious.

CHAPTER 9
END TO THE RESCUE
IT WAS no time for caution or thoughts of personal safety. Recklessly Enid ran toward the doorway, where she had seen the policeman crouching. The door opened under her hand. She entered and closed the door behind her. It left her in the darkness of the hall. Down at the end she could see a glow from a door to another room. A woman's voice was cursing and raving in a virulent tone. "Roy!" she cried. "Roy! Roy! Quick! Get out of here quick!" She saw faces appear suddenly in the lighted doorway—masked faces. Then the light went out. She sensed, rather than heard, a swift rush toward her—and then a pair of hands tightened ferociously around her throat. "Curse you, close your face," snarled a voice, "or I'll twist that windpipe of yours so's you won't never use it again!" It was Maloch's voice. She tore at his hands, and managed to loosen them a little. "It's the police!" she choked out. "Oh, don't you understand—they're here!" Another voice, obviously that of the Big Shot from its authoritative tone, spoke sharply: "Lay off her, and let's hear what she's got to say! Go on, Sis, what's the dope?" "The police!" It seemed as though she could not speak fast enough. "The policeman on a post saw you come in here. He followed you to the door. Then he ran across the

WOMEN NOW PREFER OUTDOOR EXERCISE

Washington.—(P)—Society's pet sports, bowling, ten pins and squash are being adopted by women lawyers and doctors, and these who hold government executive positions, find relaxation after business hours in building muscle by one of these methods. They are becoming formidable rivals of debutantes and society matrons who seek to keep thin by exercise. Tailor games like bridge are still in favor, but club and society women alike are preferring games which afford exercise as well as amusement.

WHEN YOU TAKE A LONG TIME TO MAKE UP YOUR MIND YOU'RE USUALLY SHORT OF MATERIAL!

There was another burst of shots. Something hot seemed to sear across the side of her head. It felt as though she had burned herself with curling tongs. Strangely it made her feel dizzy. She swayed against the Big Shot's shoulder. "What's the matter?" he asked sharply. "Nothing—Roy," she answered weakly. "Roy? What do you mean by this Roy stuff again? You hit, Sis!" But this time she did not answer. Everything was swaying before her eyes. She was dimly conscious that Skinny was leaning out and firing at something, of shots that seemed to sound from everywhere, of the furious speed at which the car was travelling—and then nothing.

COUNCIL ADOPTS MILK ORDINANCE TO GUARD HEALTH

Product Must Be Pasteurized and Bought Near Kaukauna

Kaukauna—A milk ordinance providing that all fluid milk sold in Kaukauna be pasteurized in this city and that dealers get their milk from sources more than five miles out of Kaukauna, was adopted by the common council Thursday evening.

All milk must be kept clean and pure during the process of bottling and peddling and the source of the milk must be kept clean. The ordinance was considered necessary to protect the public health.

The distance limit was set at five miles to make it possible for health officers to conduct their inspections without going too far. It also makes it possible to easily more trace the source of unclean milk in case any is found, or to trace the source of any disease that may start from unclean milk.

An ordinance covering the sale of fluid milk in the city was introduced in the council about a month ago. Much interest was shown in the measure and at one meeting all local milk dealers attended. The ordinance was given to Joseph LeVeve, city attorney, and after a report on it Thursday evening by him it was adopted. Several other clauses in the original ordinance were removed.

A long discussion was held on the adoption calls. A proposed fire ordinance has been before the council for some time but no action was taken on it, pending the outcome of the township elections.

Official announcement of the results of the election was made at the meeting and the votes were canvassed. Newly elected city officials must be sworn in within the next ten days. The old council will meet for the last time on Tuesday, March 15, at which time the new council will go in session.

POLITICIANS SPENT $55 DURING CAMPAIGN

Kaukauna — Candidates in the municipal election spent a total of $55.67 in campaigning, according to the reports filed with Louis Wolf, city clerk. Eleven candidates did not spend any money. The largest amount spent by any one candidate was $20. Most of the amounts spent were under $5 and were for printing. Those candidates who did not spend any money on the election were Bert Fargo, Louis Wolf, Joseph Dietzler, Peter Metz, William Carnot, Bert Roberts, N. J. Haupt, James McFadden, Nathan Brewster, John Nielsen, Sylvester Esler, William Powers and Fred Reichel.

FORMER PASTOR FROM KAUKAUNA ON RADIO

Kaukauna—The Rev. Roscoe A. Barnes, former pastor of Brokaw Memorial Methodist Episcopal church here and now of Milwaukee, will broadcast over the radio on April 24, 25 and 26, according to word received here by friends. He will go on the air at 7.45 on each of the mornings over the Milwaukee Journal station WTMJ.

COOKE'S TO ENTERTAIN RIPPON COLLEGE SINGERS

Kaukauna—Rippon College Glee club, which will appear at Brokaw Memorial Methodist Episcopal church Saturday evening, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cooke at a dinner Saturday evening. After the concert the Glee club will go to Green Bay where they will sing Sunday.

The Post-Crescent's representative at Kaukauna is Lloyd Derus. His telephone number is 194-W. Business with The Post-Crescent may be transacted through Mr. Derus.

INVESTORS FEEL THAT COPPER MAY HANG ON TO PRICE

Foreign and Local Demand Is Increasing — Reports Are Optimistic

PRESTON S. KRECKER
Copy right, 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York—Economic welfare of one country is so closely interrelated to that of another that whatever happens abroad may have important repercussions here. It is demonstrable that the future of some of our basic industries depend in no small degree on the ratification of the Young plan for settlement of German reparations. One such industry is the copper industry.

Frank H. Brownell, chairman of the board of the American Smelting & Refining company, told the stockholders at their annual meeting this week that the delay in ratification of the Young plan had been a serious handicap to the German copper manufacturing industry and had prevented the Germans from buying the copper they otherwise would have bought. Now that the plan has been ratified, the way is cleared for such purchases.

Germany's delay in ratifying the plan prevented that country from borrowing money. Inability to borrow in turn held up the consummation of ambitious German electrification plans. Germany, and in fact all Europe, is expanding its electrical power resources. Enormous hydro-electric power projects are on foot not only in the German empire but in Italy, France and northern countries. The Germans also are building power plants at their coal mines with a view to generating electric energy with that fuel. Those projects will call for copper in large quantity and that copper will be bought in the United States.

SALES PICKING UP
While, of course, it is too early for the copper industry to feel the benefits from the adoption of the Young plan, there is no question that volume of sales of copper to Europe has picked up recently and that the buying movement has been heaviest in the last few days. Foreign sales of copper in March totaled about 77,500,000 pounds, which is about 73 per cent of the average amount of monthly sales last year, the biggest year, incidentally, in the history of the copper trade.

Mr. Brownell predicts that exports of the metal will continue to improve and that the total for the year will about equal that of last year, which would be an achievement.

Domestic sales also have picked up with the result that consumption is about 80 per cent of last year's rate. Copper cannot go along without improvement in other industries because the metal enters into so many industrial uses such as automobile, building and public utility.

One of the bright spots in the situation is the expansion plans of the public utility industry. Electrical manufacturers consume about 60 per cent of all the copper used. The expansion program of the power and light and other utility companies spells large requirements for copper wire and other copper manufactures used in the industry.

With the knowledge that demand for copper metal is expanding, Wall Street feels more assurance than formerly that the copper companies will be able to hold the price at 18 cents a pound. That confidence is being transplanted into purchases of the copper stocks. With respect to the latter it is significant that so far the copper dividend sheet is nearly clean. Only one company has cut its dividend and that was one of the smaller producers. Declaration of the regular Anaconda dividend did much to hearten holders of the coppers.

"KONJOLA MADE ME FEEL FIFTEEN YEARS YOUNGER"

Modern Medicine Praised by Lady for Relieving Health Troubles of Long Standing

MRS. MORGAN SMITH
"Konjola caused a wonderful improvement in my health," said Mrs. Morgan Smith, R. F. D. No. 7, Green Bay, Wis. "For fifteen years I suffered with bloating after my meals and during the past three years I had terrible pains of indigestion. My appetite practically left me. As a result I became badly run down. I had a continual feeling of depression and had no energy, and also had frequent dizzy spells."

"I realized that something must be done quickly to relieve me, and after reading how a neighbor had been relieved by Konjola, I decided to put this new medicine to the test. The results were more than I had hoped for. My appetite returned, I am no longer bothered with bloating and pains, and I am feeling better in every respect. No longer do I dread my household tasks. In fact, I feel fifteen years younger, and gladly recommend Konjola. It has proved itself in my case."

Konjola, a compound of 32 valuable medical ingredients, works with the sufferer's food, eliminating poisons and restoring normal activity to the ailing organs. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a fair treatment.

Nurse Gains 7 Lbs. in 2 Weeks with Yeast and Iron

"I am a nurse at the hospital," writes Miss Martha Burns, "and I want to let you know that I am glad to recommend your Ironized Yeast. 'It gave me a good appetite. I got strong and gained 7 pounds in 2 weeks. I could write all day about how much good Ironized Yeast did me. You would be surprised at the strength I gained in 3 or 4 days.'"

People everywhere are amazed at the wonderful benefits of Ironized Yeast. Many write they were doubtful when they started. But after taking it regularly for only 3 or 4 weeks they gained 5 to 15 pounds. Ugly hollows fill out. Skinny limbs become gracefully rounded. Bleached skin gets clear and beautiful.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective — for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets in a handy bottle. Never cause gas or bloating. Safe — no harmful drugs.

"I have heard pretty moderately big business men say:

"EVEN if Mutual Insurance is all you say, I would still let the agent, S. T. Ock, write my insurance because he patronizes my business." To such a one let me ask: "Did you study Economics at school or college? If so, you know you cannot enrich yourself by giving people money with which to patronize your business any more than you can lift yourself by the boot straps or make perpetual motion. Since you save more in Mutual Insurance than Ock's commission, Ock is simply living on your and your other benefactors' bounty. If it is sound economics for you and the rest of them to support Ock by indirect contributions, why would it not pay to support all of your customers the same way?"

FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN SENTENCED TO PRISON

Fond du Lac — (AP) — Herman Schroeder, former assemblyman, Thursday was sentenced to the state prison after he pleaded guilty to forgery of $6,000 in notes.

Parole was denied after his counsel presented a tale of financial tragedy which left Schroeder penniless, despite the fact that ten years ago he was worth $30,000. Schroeder signed an affidavit of indigence before the court.

Sentenced on two counts, he was given two terms of one to three years, to run concurrently.

His counsel said Schroeder was for many years regarded as a person of trust and responsibility in his home community, supervisor, treasurer, school clerk for 29 years and resident on his farm for 41 years. Two years ago he turned the farm over to a brother in an effort to make restitution for some of the funds he had lost.

His losses started while he was in the legislature, Schroeder testified.

WISCONSIN NOT SO REGARDFUL ABOUT PROHIBITION NOW

State Took Dry Law Seriously, However, Earlier in Decade

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington — Wisconsin took prohibition seriously during the second year of operation of the 18th amendment, but has become steadily disregarding of it since that time, if figures on arrests for drunkenness mean anything. They probably don't. But Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland used statistics on arrests for drunkenness in cities throughout the country, including 26 Wisconsin cities, in his effort to prove that drunkenness has increased since the 18th amendment went into effect on Jan. 29, 1919.

Of these 26 Wisconsin cities, 13 reached their low point in arrests for drunkenness in 1920, the second year of national prohibition, and 10 reached their high point in 1929. Twenty-two reached their low point after national prohibition, and 13 reached their high points after national prohibition.

Figures for arrests for drunkenness are not given for either Green Bay or Appleton. Neenah reached its low point in 1920, with ten arrests, and its high point in 1928, with 130. Menasha's low point was 46 arrests in 1914, the first year for which figures were given, and its high point was 139 arrests in 1928, the last year for which figures are given.

Manitowoc reached its high point in 1917, with 250 arrests, and its low point in 1920, with 39 arrests, the 1928 figure being 81 arrests for drunkenness.

High and low points and the 1928 figures for drunkenness in the Wisconsin cities used by Senator Tydings were:

Antigo, high in 1917 with 147 arrests, low in 1920 with 10, and 23 in 1928; Ashland, high in 1917 with 1,748 arrests, low in 1919 with 141 and 417 in 1928.

Beaver Dam, low in 1920 with 13 arrests, high in 1927 with 120; and 102 in 1928; Deloit, high in 1917 with 1,251 arrests and low in 1920 with 73, with 131 in 1928; Berlin, no figures before 1919, and low in 1920 with only 7 and high in 1928 with 23.

Delavan, no figures before 1919,

STATE LEGIONAIRES SEEK 30,000 MEMBERS

Seven hundred more world war veterans are wanted by the state department of the American legion so the 30,000 goal soon may be reached, according to Marshall C. Graff, state commander. There now are about 29,300 veterans in the state department, and with acquisition of the remaining 700 the state will be the first in this section to reach the 30,000 mark. Wisconsin is entered in competition with Iowa in a contest to see which reaches the 30,000 mark first.
